for the award of Compensation

FOR ORDERS.

The Surgeon General
forwards through the Accountant General a memorial from Major C. Adams M.B.
I.M.S. now on sick leave,
praying for the award
of Compensation for the injury sustained by him in July 1897, whilst performing an operation
in the execution of his duty;
the Surgeon General adds that the prayer of Major Adams is governed by revised Article 787 A
of the C.S.R.
The Accountant General

say that the case does not come within any of the rules contained in the Civil Service Regulations.

Attention is solicited to the ~~notwithstanding~~ of the ~~fact~~ in G.O. No 1313, dated 5th October 1897.

^{C.S.R.}
Art. 787 A ^{apparently} contemplates cases of permanent injury, but of such a nature as not to amount to incapacity for earning a livelihood. The fact ^{is} evidently taken into view of the claim, when he says that it does not fall within any of the rules in the C.S. Regs. The medical statement of Major Adams' case shows that he is practically cured. The accident which befell Major Adams is one to which all medical officers are liable, if they perform operations

It may be as well to get a ruling in the case, but the claim seems inadmissible as the disease would appear to be the result of carelessness in performing an operation with a cor on the thumb. ~~It does not appear that~~ the claim should not therefore be forwarded with the support of Govt.

with abrasion on their hands or fingers, - e.g. Capt. Giffard's case, after holding a post-mortem on a plague patient.

Cis 9.12.98 There appears to be no precedent for such an application, and it is not quite clear why a medical officer who has contracted sickness in the execution of his duty should be entitled to compensation any more than an officer in any other Dept who has been rendered incapable to take sick leave owing to sickness for which he has been posted. The matter is, however, one on which it would be convenient to have a ruling, and it is submitted that the application may therefore be forwarded to the Govt of India for disposal.
