There is nothing special in this case. The difficulties pointed out are incidental to camp. I do not think this request should be cancelled.

To

The Chief Secretary to the Government of Madras,

SIR,

I have the honour to state that the services required of the peons in this Department - particularly in camp - are unique, in as much as they have often to walk many miles, while survey work may be simultaneously proceeding at several villages at some distance from a central camp. There may be no post-office near, and a peon has to be sent a long distance daily, for and with official correspondence. This all causes unnecessary delay, and a means of more rapid conveyance has often been desired for this or other urgent matters incidental to the work of the Survey.

I have the honour to be
Sir,
Your most obedient servant

Superintendent.
