With reference to Book of India P.W.D. Circular
No. 616 RT dated the 29.
October 1894. I am directed to state that the question raised therein does not affect the Madras Railway as under its contract all land required by the Railway is granted free of cost. No charges for interest on the cost of land therefore appear in the expenses account of any joint station used by this company.

The Agent S. I. R.
2. recommends that future agreements for the use of joint-stations should lay down that a charge should be made to the joint expenses for interest on the Capital cost of land at 4 per cent per annum, the charges for structure & permanent-w.
being

being arrived at as
