Read the following paper :—

From the Agent and Manager, Madras Railway Company, to the Consulting Engineer for Railways, dated Madras, 10th August 1895, No. E. 480/711.

I have the honour to forward herewith an estimate, with plan No. 3504, for the proposed additional room to the Institute at Perambūr and to request that the sanction of Government may be conveyed to me for the required outlay, Rs. 7,732, chargeable in the proportion of Rs. 7,481 to Capital and Rs. 251 to Revenue.

2. In explanation of the necessity for the work I beg to enclose for your information an extract from a letter No. A. 13165 $\frac{1}{2}$ /502 of the 27th June 1894 addressed to me by the Locomotive Superintendent.

3. The matter was discussed at a meeting of officers held in my office on the 7th May last and approved.

4. Information as to provision in the budget and date on which sanction will lapse is given on the estimate.

ENCLOSURE.

EXTRACT from a letter from the Locomotive Superintendent, to the Agent and Manager, Madras Railway, No. A. 131651/502, dated 27th June 1894.

I write to ask if anything can be done towards the provision of a more commodious and convenient building for the use of the Institute at Perambūr.

2. As you are aware, the Institute is now located in an old bungalow which was purchased from the late Boiler Maker Foreman Fisher of this department. The bungalow consists of a centre room or hall in which the two billiard tables are located, a long room on the south side used for a reading-room and two small rooms on the north which are used as staff quarters for the use of up-country Foremen or others who may from time to time be called to Perambur on duty. The books are stowed partly in a small bath-room and partly in almirahs in the reading-room.

3. The whole place is exceedingly crowded and inconvenient and I think in a large community such as we have here a larger and more attractive building is a necessity.

4. I believe the bungalow itself is in a bad state of repair, having been kutcha built only, and it is a question whether it is worth spending much money upon it, and, if this is so, an entirely new building should probably be constructed. If, however, this is not the case and it is considered the building is worth using, I would suggest that the following alterations should be made:—

- (a) A new billiard-room to be built either attached, or in close proximity, to the existing building large enough to hold two full-sized tables comfortably.
- (b) The present billiard-room to be fitted up as a reading-room, and the present reading-room to be converted to a Book store and Librarian's office.
- (c) The two rooms used for staff quarters to be thrown open and used as card-rooms.
- (d) The front verandah to be extended and used as a smoking-room and lounge.
