No. 501

To The Consulting Engineer for Railways

From Engineer-in-Chief,
BANGALORE.

Sir,

I have the honor to point out that under C. S. R. Art 1133 Appendix 22- Surveyors are specially exempted from drawing Travelling allowance and their pay is supposed to be fixed to cover Travelling allowance. I have 3 temporary Surveyors with me, one of whom, Sunderlaige, always drew Travelling allowance in Burmah under Mr Bagley, and audit of his Travelling allowance has been deferred under Art 1133 pending information as to whether he has had to journey beyond his jurisdiction.

I propose with your approval to grade these men as Upper/Lower Subordinates, Temporary, and it would then seem that they would come under art: 1101 C. S. R.

I have found previously that no increase of pay satisfies these men for deprivation of Travelling Allowance and no matter what their pay be fixed at they still remain dissatisfied at the loss of Travelling allowance which the permanent men draw. On this Survey especially I think they should be allowed it, and if my proposal to regrade these men meets your approval and will make their Travelling allowance a legitimate charge, it will be better and more economical than increasing their monthly pay.

I have the honor to be
Sir

It is for Government to decide whether the reasons adduced by the Engineer-in-Chief are sufficient to warrant the grading of the men as $\frac{\text{Upper}}{\text{Lower}}$ Subordinates on the temporary Establishment. If they are graded as such, they will be eligible to travelling allowance admissible to members of corresponding rank on the permanent establishment, vide C.S.R. 1101.

2. Attention is invited to Code I. I. 19, should the men be appointed Lower Subordinates, and to Code I. I. 51 if they are not qualified for appointment as Upper Subordinates under the Examination rules.

Sir,

I have the honour to state in reply to your No. 1998 dated 25th June /95 that I propose to designate the following men as "Temporary Upper Subordinates" instead of "Surveyors" to avoid their being classed under 1133 - C. S. Regulation -

	Salary.	Daily allowce
A. Molloy.	Rs 100 - ✗	1 - 0 - 0 per diem
C. Peters.	" 60. ✗	0 - 10 - 0 "
Sunder Singh.	" 60. ✗	1 - 0 - 0 "

they will thereby become entitled to the daily allowance shewn opposite their names under Art: 1167 (iii) & in the case of Sunder Singh 1259 (iii) also, his work being in South Canara, of the C. S. Regulation & so save further question.

I have the honour to be

It depends on what terms the men were originally employed - if taken on as surveyors & called so during their work in the field - it seems not admissible that they should be now regarded to make them to draw allowance in the past - please order opinion hereon.

E.R.
Engil has not answered my question very clearly: I find from Examiner that the figures given ~~are~~ show the pay the men are drawing at present.

EXAMINER'S REPLY.

No. 200 E d/9-9-95

To E. R.

It is for Government to decide whether the three surveyors, who have been graded as temporary upper subordinates, should be allowed daily allowance at Rs. I-8-0, the rate admissible to an overseer on the permanent establishment vide C. S. R. article II0I or whether the rates already sanctioned are sufficient. In this connection it may be observed that it is a general principle that temporary servants, having no claim to pension, and only a conditional claim to absentee allowances, are ordinarily paid higher salaries than they would receive if on permanent employment and that consequently the class in which the temporary officer is to be placed should, for the purpose of determining travelling allowance ordinarily be that of a permanent servant receiving somewhat lower salary.

Sir,

I have the honor to state in reply to your letter No 2927 dated September 16th, that the allowance of Rs 1-8-0 per diem is under the Civil Service Regulations, the allowance for Upper Subordinates and that the Mulnaad allowance would therefore be Rs 2/8 or say Rs 75 per mensem. This has been provided in the Estimate I submitted, and considering the very unhealthy nature of the Country it is desirable it be sanctioned. The grant of allowances of this nature is more valued than increase of pay, and it has the advantage of being terminable when the men come in for compilation.
