in the absence of details of contracts entered into for supplies, to ascertain how the Board's estimate has been arrived at but judging from the indents which have already gone forward and which it is expected will be complied with before the close of the year, the forecast appears reasonable, and we recommend that the provision for expenditure in England on Stores be increased from £. 8,92,000 to £. 13,96,000 by the allotment of an additional grant of £. 5,04,000.

EXTENSIONS.

The board's estimate has been placed at £ 30,000, to which a sum ways and the expenditure in

the Madras Railway
from 1899 to March
Secretary of
the transaction 10 d.

of £ 1,000 representing the actual expenditure from April to October 1899 and the probable outlay for November 1899, may be added to arrive at the estimate for the year. This sum (£ 31,000), at 1 s. = 4 d. exchange, works out to Rs. 4,65,000, against the existing grant of Rs. 3,95,000 (grant for expenditure in England Rs. 4,00,000, less for Home establishment Rs. 5,000.)

The amount of the indents in the hands of the Board remaining to be complied with is about Rs. 3,90,000, but it is probable that the Board expect to spend something during the year on the large indent for permanent way material which was certified against the provision for indents to be complied with in 1900-1901.

We are therefore of opinion that the grant should be increased to Rs. 4,65,000. It is unlikely in the case of either the open line or the extensions that any outlay will be incurred on indents that may be submitted during the remainder of the official year.
