Transit pay and travelling allowance to temporary employes on transfer.

Simla, the 20th August 1898.

SIR,

Certain references recently made to the Government of India in connection with the grant of travelling allowance to temporary employes on transfer have shown that the rules on the subject are not clearly understood and acted upon, and, as it is desirable that there should be uniformity of procedure in this matter, I am directed to state that the intention of the rule in paragraph 80, Chapter IV, Volume I, Public Works Department Code, is that temporary employes are not ordinarily entitled to transit pay and travelling allowance. When, however, temporary employes are engaged for general duties to supplement the permanent establishment, as is often the case, and not for particular works, it is within the competence of the Local Government or Administration to transfer them according to the necessities of the public service in the same manner as the ordinary permanent staff, and, in accordance with the rule quoted, to grant transit pay in such cases.

2. I am also to explain that when the transfer has been so ordered, and transit pay granted by the Local Government or Administration, this order should be held to carry with it the grant of the usual travelling allowance under Civil Service Regulations 1101 and 1203, subject always to the approval of the Controlling Officer.

I have the honour to be,

SIR,

Your most obedient servant,

G. H. Walker
