2. These were originally ordered for the weighment of salt but found to be unsuited to the purpose. The Collector however reports that they are well adapted for a Sea Custom House and will be required to furnish 2 out of 3 new weighing sheds sanctioned for the Port of Coompta, and a set now necessary at Tudri where Messrs. Brice and Co., have established their Principal Coast Depôt. A spare set will not be deemed superfluous in a District where the Sea borne trade is so likely to increase rapidly as in Canara.
