Fort Saint George, Revenue Consultation of 9th February 1858.

No. 161.

No. 33. Extract from the Minutes of Consultation under date the 6th February 1858.

Tabular Report of lapsed Enams in Bellary for the 2nd quarter of 1857, submitted by the Board of Revenue 13th December 1857.

1. The Enams in which the two deceased holders held shares are of unknown origin, and the last incumbents are unconnected with the same. In whose name they are entered in the accounts; the deceased are reported to have been two out of 13 sharers, among whom the whole Enam was divided in 1819, on a dispute concerning their Enams arising among the Reddies of the village. The Collector recommends that "as the enjoyment of the land" as (Enam) "by the last holders was irregular, the lapsed shares should be resumed, and the other shares revert to Government as lapses occur."

2. The Government agree with the Board in viewing the whole as, in strictness at once resumable as an unauthorized appropriation and distribution of Government land, and that by its own officers; but before giving final orders regarding it, they desire that the Collector be called on for a separate report upon the case. Mr. Pelly will be so good as to state who were the parties who made the original appropriation, into what shares the land was divided, who are the parties at present holding it, and the relationship they have to those who originally distributed it, with information as to their present means and circumstances.

3. The meaning of the first part, however, of the Collector's recommendation, that the Enam, in whose name the Enam is entered in the accounts, was the grandmother "to the above Goundapah," is not apparent, no one of the latter name having been mentioned; it may further be remarked that it is unlikely that the Enam should have been entered in the Pymish accounts, in the name of an individual who had deceased a century previously.

4. The deceased in the grandson and great grandson of two persons in whose names the Enam was entered in the survey accounts. The Honorable Court of Directors have decided, in the despatch quoted by Mr. Pelly, that these Enams were resumable when the services for which they were granted ceased to be rendered or required; and if they are continued at all it can only be as a matter of grace and favour; therefore the "regular descent" of the shares under notice, to the last holders from the owners at the time of the Pymish, can obviously form no sort of ground for their still further continuance. The family of the deceased is seen to possess a potail Enam besides the present; and the Governor in Council is of opinion that sufficient indulgence has been shown to them, and directs the resumption of the lapsed shares.

5. This is a nadgaud Enam and the deceased is the nephew of the possessor at the time of the Pymish. It will be continued as recommended to the son of the deceased for his life, in consideration of the family having no other means of support. "The grant being of old date," the Government may remark, does not in any way strengthen the claimant's case.

6. From the first and 4th columns of the Statement this is shown to be a "Khyratee," or charity Enam. It is unsupported by any grant, and the deceased, who was the son of the holder at the time of the Pymish, has left no family; but his sister's son Haboob Sahib claims the Enam. It appears to the Government that it can only have been particularized as "Khyratee" on the strength of its having been a charity Enam.

ing been so entered in the public accounts, with which entry, any attempt to perpetuate the grant by attaching a fictitious condition of service to it must be inconsistent, and inadvisable. The Government see little force in the Collector's recommendation in this case, and in accordance with the Board's recommendation, order its resumption.

8. This grant was not only entirely unauthorized in its origin, but it has since been alienated from the original grantee's family by his grandson; who transferred the land to the deceased by gift in 1833. The Government fully concur in the recommendation for its resumption.

9. The Board of Revenue remark in a postscript to their proceedings that "some of these lapses are of very old date." The dates of the respective lapses are noted in the margin. The periods that have intervened between the Enamdar's death and the date of the Collector's report will be seen to vary from 7 to 14 years, all the lapses indeed, but one, being of 2½ years standing at least. The Government are of opinion that under a proper system of procuring the report of lapses, 6 months would be the utmost that would intervene between the death of the Enamdar and the report of the case to the Board of Revenue; and they are unable to see that there was any necessity for such delay as that which has been cursorily alluded to by the Board.

Acting Secretary to Government.
