No. 15. PROCEEDINGS of the MADRAS GOVERNMENT,

Dated 14th November 1859, No. 1544.

In the orders noted in the margin the Government desired that the District Engineers should be directed to supply the Collectors with two Skeleton Maps of their respective Districts; one to show the Táluqs as they are, the other as proposed to be. This is a work which cannot be supposed to need much time; yet now, after the lapse of nearly five months, the Government learn that Maps have been furnished by very few of the District Engineers. As a consequence the measures in view to which the Maps were called for have been greatly delayed; though in some Districts the Collectors have, with laudable zeal, caused rough Maps to be prepared in their own offices, without the aid which they had a right to expect from the District Engineers.

2. The Governor in Council now resolves to call on those officers through the Chief Engineer to explain their backwardness in giving effect to the orders of Government. An order, which he believes a moderate amount of intelligent attention, combined with willingness, would have fully sufficed to satisfy in every District, even where the boundaries of the present Táluqs had to be laid down.

3. The Chief Engineer will further call on all those District Engineers who have not yet furnished any Maps, to supply them now without further delay.

4. The Government learn from Mr. Pelly that he has not yet received any communication whatever on the subject of the Táluq revision from the four Districts named in the margin. The Collectors of those Districts may probably have been impeded by the failure of the Engineers to furnish the Maps; but whatever the cause, the Government resolve to call their attention to the long delay, and to desire that no further avoidable loss of time may be permitted to occur.

5. The Government also resolve to call on the Collectors of all Districts, except of those where a final order has already been passed, to furnish the further information or explanation that may have been asked for by Mr. Pelly with all possible promptitude, in view to an early settlement.

In the endorsement
in the margin the Govt desired that the District Engineers should be directed to supply the Collectors with two skeleton maps of their respective Districts; one to shew the Talugs as they are, the other as proposed to be. This is a work which now after the lapse

of nearly five months,
the Govt learn that no maps have been furnished by very few of the District Engrs.

As a consequence the measures in view to which the maps were called for, have been greatly delayed. Though in some Districts the Collectors have, with laudable zeal, caused rough maps to be prepared in their own offices, without the aid which they had a right to expect from the District Engrs.

2 The Governor in Council now resolves to call on those Officers through the Chief Engr. to explain their backwardness in giving effect to the orders of Govt. And order, which he believes, a moderate amount of intelligent attention, combined with with willingness, would have fully sufficed to satisfy in every District, even where the boundaries of the present Talugs had to be laid down.

3 The Chief Engr. will further call on all those District Engrs who have not yet furnished any maps, to supply them now without further delay.

4 The Govt learn from Mr. Petley that he has not yet received any communication whatever on the subject of the Talug revision from the four Districts named in the margin. The Collectors of those Districts may probably have been impeded by the failure of the Engineers to furnish the maps; but whatever the cause, the Govt resolve to call their attention to the long delay, and to desire that no further avoidable loss of time may be permitted to occur.

5 The Govt also resolve to call on the Collectors of all Districts, except of those where a final order has already been passed, to furnish the further information or explanation
