From the inundations of Goorralavagoo &c Canals, situated on the west of the Enam, & the Channels running across the land, a portion 8—15 of the Enam has been unfit for Cultivation for the last 100 or 12 years, leaving only 3—11 of land fit for Cultivation. Observations of Collector

It appears, that this Mohaland possessed one Cullee of land according to Goose Kullo, which was found to be only 12-10 on measurement. A portion of the land held at present can be brought under Cultivation, but it would be difficult to Cultivate it the land lying between the Canals. This Mohaland has no other Inamdaree than this. It is therefore recommended that the present holding should be changed & a Cully of land given him on the same Conditions in another place
