The Brigade Command of Vellore having been abolished, the house in the fort heretofore occupied as the Brigadier's residence is vacant. This building will now be occupied by the Sub-Collector, for which purpose it is well adapted by situation. The lower part will be used for his office, and the upper part for his residence. A rent of thirty Rupees will be charged for the latter.

2. An office being thus provided for the Sub-Collector he will of course cease to draw extra tent allowance while at Vellore.

3. The Board of Revenue will also ascertain at what other places extra tent allowance is permanently drawn by Sub-Collectors or Head Assistants at their fixed stations, and will endeavour to make arrangements to supply them with office accommodation either in a Government building or in one rented for the purpose.

4. The same course should be followed in the case of the Deputy Collectors.
