HOME DEPARTMENT.

No. 691.

Fort William, the 1st April 1859.

The following Rules for the transmission of Service Messages by Electric Telegraph, passed by His Excellency the Governor General of India in Council, on the 1st April 1859, in supersession of all previous Rules on the subject, are published for general information :—

I. From the 1st May 1859, all messages sent on service by public functionaries of all classes, must be paid for in cash previous to despatch.

II. The rates payable for the number of words and distances will be the same in all respects as those charged to private individuals.

III. Repetition price will be charged whenever the message contains numbers or refers to financial matters.

IV. The privilege of precedence in despatch for all Service Messages will cease, except in cases of pressing public emergency and importance, when priority of despatch may be claimed by the sender. The Superintendent will bring to the notice of the Government of India, any case of a Public Officer insisting in priority of despatch without reason.

V. One exception only will be made to the Rule of cash payments. Officers in Command of Troops employed in operations in the Field may send their messages without payment. But this privilege does not extend to the case of Troops marching to join, or to moveable columns while halted, and with funds available for contingent expenses.

VI. The sums paid by public functionaries for the despatch of messages will be recovered from Government by the sender, by contingent bills countersigned as usual.

VII. The above Rules do not apply to the Hooghly River Lines and Offices, which are employed for special purposes.

VIII. The Governors of Pondicherry and Goa shall also continue to enjoy the privilege of free transmission of messages conceded to their Governments.

CECIL BEADON,
Secy. to the Govt. of India.

Republished by order of the Honorable the Governor in Council.
