2. The present sharers of the Shotrium which Petitioner seeks permission under Regulation IV. of 1831, to make subject of a Civil Suit, are related to one another as second cousins, and are the lineal descendants in the third degree of the original grantee.

3. The point at issue between them is the fairness of the division of the lands, and the Board concur in opinion with the Collector, that under the circumstances of the case, leave may without objection be granted for seeking its adjustment in the Civil Courts.

No. 65. ORDER THEREON, No. 422; dated 29th March 1859.

1. The village of Vellooppanam Coorchey was granted by the Zemindar of Arealore in the Trichinopoly District to one Coosha Acharry, of whom the Petitioner is a descendant by the elder branch of the family; Petitioner's request is that leave may be granted to sue his co-partner Govinda Acharry, on the plea that he is in the enjoyment of more than his fair share of the village.

2. The Collector states that as the village in question is a Shrotriem for charity and does not come within the limits of Regulation VI. of 1836 or VII. of 1817, no objection can be made to Petitioner's request, an opinion in which the Board in their Proceedings of the 17th March 1859 entirely concur.

3. The Right Honorable the Governor in Council grants permission to Vasoodava Charriar to sue Govinda Charriar in the Courts for the share in this village alleged to be withheld from him.

4. This permission does not affect any right which the Government may have in the lands in question.
