3. 5. 1859.

Not to be folded or roughly handled.

Proceedings of the Madras Government, Revenue Department, from 30th April to 3d May 1859.

No. 11. Read the following Extract from the Proceedings of the Board of Revenue, dated 20th April 1859, No. 1415.

Read letter from the Collector of South Arcot, dated 29th March 1859, No. 53, forwarding the resignation of his Head Serishtadar, and requesting permission to retain his services until the close of the Fusly.

(In Con. 31st March 1859, No. 1401.)

Resolved that the above letter be submitted for the favorable consideration of Government.

2. M. Rungah Charloo, Head Serishtadar of South Arcot, is one of those officers whom the Board recommended for pension in the new arrangements for appointing Deputy Collectors, and Government approved of the recommendation.

3. They have also permitted the retention in their old Districts of those Head Serishtadars who now stand appointed as Deputy Collectors elsewhere, for such period less than six months as the public convenience may require.

4. And on this principle, the Board recommend that M. Rungah Charloo may be retained on his old footing as Head Serishtadar of South Arcot until such time within the present Fusly as the Jumabundy now in progress there may be concluded and the accounts of the year closed, from which last date his resignation will be accepted and his pension commence.

5. The very great inconvenience that must inevitably result from a change of officers while the settlement is in progress, induces the Board to make this recommendation, and should any obstacle on the score of pay present itself to the arrangement from the fact of the appointments of Deputy Collectors to South Arcot being all filled up, the Board would suggest that of the appointments still to be made elsewhere, one or two may be left unfilled for the present, and the salaries belonging to them devoted to meeting any such case as the present. The delay of course could in no case extend beyond the term of six months fixed by Government as that for which Head Serishtadars may be retained in their present Districts.
