Extract from a special Narrative from the Government of Bengal, No. 13 of 1860, dated 16th June, 1860.

Para. 4. The Lieutenant Governor does not understand the orders of the Right Hon'ble the Secretary of state to contemplate greater frequency in the dispatch of separate letters than has been hitherto customary. When any subject is considered of sufficient urgency or importance to require to be specially reported, a special letter will now be written as has been always the practice. Other cases of more or less importance which have hitherto been reported in the quarterly Narratives, will now be included in the first part of the volume of transactions of the Government, to be transmitted to the Home Authorities under the new system.
