No. 526. Read the following letter from W. BALMAIN, Esq., Officiating Civil Auditor, to J. D. BOURDILLON, Esq., Secretary to Government, Revenue Department, dated Fort Saint George, 30th October 1860, No. 1,255 :—

SIR,

1. Under the orders of the Secretary of State, No. 28 of 24th April 1860, Mr. Ballard has sent in a Bill for full pay as Deputy Director of Revenue Settlement for two months, from 10th May to 9th July 1860. As Mr. Ballard obtained a last Pay Certificate from this Office to the effect that he had only drawn pay in India up to the 9th May, and as he has probably drawn furlough pay from the 10th, if the Bills now submitted are passed there will be an audit in excess requiring to be retrenched. And this must be done in England if Government think proper to address the Secretary of State on the subject.

2. I would also beg to state that the full pay of the appointment, Rupees 1,200 per month, has been passed to Mr. Morris, appointed in Mr. Ballard's room. If Mr. Ballard is considered on privilege leave, is any retrenchment against Mr. Morris requisite or his full pay to be passed to both ?

No. 527. ORDER THEREON, 30th November 1860, No. 2,282.

1. Under the orders* of the Home Government Mr. Ballard's claim to full pay for the two months' privilege leave obtained by him from this Government on the 8th May 1860, must be admitted, and the disbursement met out of the Civil Absentee Fund. It is not likely that, after having sent in his Bill for full allowance for the two months, Mr. Ballard will draw furlough allowance in England for the same period; the Government therefore see no necessity for addressing the Secretary of State on the subject.

2. Mr. Morris was distinctly informed† on appointment to Mr. Ballard's place that, at the end of two months during which he was to get an insight into the work of the Settlement Department, he would receive the full salary of the Office. His claim to full salary for the period that Mr. Ballard was on privilege leave, cannot now be denied, and retrenchment therefore must not be made on him.

(Signed) J. D. SIM,
Acting Secretary to Government.
