With reference to the orders marginally quoted, I have the honor to forward a letter from the District Engineer of South Arcot, reporting on the Salt Roads in that District.

No. 301, dated 27th February 1860, dated 12th March 1860, No. 256, and 1 Letter as above.

2. Captain Foord states that the Road to Killay is formed and bridged throughout and cannot be much improved except at great expense.

3. An Estimate for a Road to the Tyágavalli Pans has been prepared; but Captain Foord recommends that the Salt should be taken by boat to Cuddalore.
