Proceedings of the Madras Government, Revenue Department, 8th March 1861.

No. 139. Read the following letter from C. PELLY, Esq., Member of the Board of Revenue, to J. D. BOURDILLON, Esq., Secretary to Government, Revenue Department, Fort Saint George, dated 16th February 1861, No. 719:—

SIR,

1. I have the honor to forward a letter from the Collector of Madras, requesting that some allowance be made to the Adjutant of the Depôt at Palaveram, in consequence of his having been made a Joint Magistrate at that station, under the Orders of Government dated 22nd December 1860, No. 1,688, Judicial Department.

Dated 26th January 1861.

2. It seems that I was under a misapprehension in supposing that this Officer performed the duties of Superintendent of Police at this station, previous to the introduction of the new Police. It was the station Staff Officer who performed the Police duties, in addition to his own Staff duties. This office has, it seems, been abolished, and the Adjutant of the Depôt now transacts the business formerly devolving upon the station Officer, in addition to his peculiar duties as Adjutant, and to these labors those of a Joint Magistrate are now to be joined, and under these circumstances Mr. Cunliffe recommends that an increase should be made to his present salary, which is 182 Rupees for Staff allowance. The Staff allowance drawn by the station Staff Officer (which appointment has been done away with) was 170 Rupees.

3. Out of the Staff salary of 182 Rupees allowed for the Adjutant, he has to provide his own Office Establishment and Stationery, which absorb 60 Rupees. The extra magisterial duty now imposed on the Adjutant was performed by the Staff Officer who drew an allowance of 170 Rupees. Had a Sub-Magistrate been given to this station I should have recommended one on 50 Rupees, and if Government deem it right to give a special allowance to the Adjutant for the performance of extra magisterial work I would recommend that that sum be added to his Staff salary. The Establishment recommended for the Joint Magistrate's Office, Rupees 52, has not yet received the sanction of Government.

See letter from Collector Madras, dated 12th February 1861.

Letter to Government 29th Jan. 1861, No. 701.

No. 140. ORDER THEREON, 8th March 1861, No. 536.

1. The foregoing paper relates to the subject of an allowance to the Adjutant of the Depôt at Palaveram, on account of the additional duty to be performed by him as Joint Magistrate of the station. Mr. Pelly recommends an allowance of fifty Rupees a month on this account.

2. Under the circumstances stated, and as the additional duties are wholly new, the Government consider the application a fair one, and sanction the allowance recommended.

Sir

I have the honor to request that you will be pleased to bring to the notice of Government the circumstance of my having been appointed Adjutant of the Depôt at Palaveram, in addition to my duties as Assistant Commissary General of Ordnance to the Southern Division of the Army.

2. The Depôt at Palaveram is a large one, and the duties of Adjutant are very heavy, and I am of opinion that I am entitled to some remuneration for the additional duties I perform.

3. I have the honor to be Sir giving special remuneration to officers for a little extra duty known as Depôt Adjutant. It is not contended that the Depôt Staff Officer will be overworked with his own duties, or that they will put him to any extra charge.

The point of fact to which I am anxious to draw attention is, that he is to have an Establishment of 52 Rupees. & I have no doubt that Establishment will do the greater part of his Canteen work, for which he is now obliged to have recourse to that of his Staff Duty.

I think the application should be refused.
