Proceedings of the Madras Government, Revenue Department, 17th April 1863.

No. 159. Read the following letter from H. A. MANGLES, Esq., Officiating Civil Paymaster, to J. D. SIM, Esq., Secretary to Government, Revenue Department, dated Fort Saint George, 30th March 1863, No. 409:—

SIR,

1. With reference to the Order of Government dated 20th instant, No. 553, I have the honor to report that there are no rules regulating the allowances of Uncovenanted Servants generally when under suspension, those quoted in paragraph 63, Chapter XIV of the Civil Auditor's Manual, referring only to the Postal Department.

2. The allowances of those acting for them are regulated by Section XIV, Chapter IV of the Uncovenanted Rules, in which it is laid down that "a person officiating temporarily in any situation, will draw so much of the salary of such situation, as may equal the sum deducted on account of absence from the real incumbent." If therefore, as in the case under reference, the Board consider that the suspended Officer ought not to suffer any loss of salary, there would be nothing available for the acting Officer unless, as suggested by the Board, the amount was charged against the authority by whom the Officer had been improperly suspended; there is no sanction for passing such double payments as additional charges against Government.

No. 160. ORDER THEREON, 17th April 1863, No. 682.

The Government agree with the Board that no absolute rule can be laid down, but that each case should be determined on its own merits. Where however the conduct of an Officer has been, prima facie, of so suspicious a character as to warrant suspension, his subsequent acquittal should not, as a matter of course, entitle him to all arrears of pay.

(Signed.) J. D. SIM,
Secretary to Government.
