ORDER THEREON, 12th May 1863, No. 826.

1. The "Porpichay" and "Khetwary" were simply voluntary contributions from the Ryots for the benefit of the Pagodas interested, and Government have granted land to the Pagoda Trustees in lieu of those contributions, thus transferring the obligation from the people to the State, and substituting a certain for an uncertain income.

2. The Government concur with the Board that when this arrangement was carried out, the fund should have been closed, and the amount at its credit expended in some work of general utility, as a bridge or the like. The Board will call on the Collector to suggest some suitable work.

3. The "Porpichay" and "Khetwary," it is observed, are no longer collected from the Ryots on behalf of Government.

4. The application of the Petitioner will be rejected, as recommended by the Board.
