been fully attended to by their officers, the Government resolve to authorize the publication of one more notice similar to the one issued by Mr. Fraser in 1862, with an additional paragraph to the effect that any yeomiahdar wishing to be examined in her own house should address the District authorities, shewing ground for the indulgence. As this is the last opportunity which these pensioners will have of proving their existence, the Board will enforce on the Collector the necessity of every care being taken in carrying out the express wishes of the Secretary of State.

6. The information called for in the Proceedings under review should be submitted with the final report on this subject, which should be received not later than the close of the year.

7 The number of Gooha Pensioners was in the first instance stated to be 166. Of these 41 appeared for examination in 1861, and orders have recently (12th April 1864, No. 613) been passed as to the arrears payable to them: 22 others are mentioned as in the uninterrupted receipt of their allowances on due examination, and 95 are alluded to in the letter under review. There remain therefore
