Proceedings of the Madras Government, Revenue Department, 9th June 1865.

No. 173. Read the following Proceedings of the Board of Revenue, dated 31st May 1865, No. 2,839.

Read the following letter from A. HATHAWAY, Esq., Collector of Bellary, to R. A. DALYELL, Esq., Acting Secretary to the Board of Revenue, dated Camp, Hospett, 15th April 1865, No. 56:—

SIR,

1. In reply to the Acting Sub-Secretary's Memorandum, No. 288 of the 16th ultimo, I have the honor to report that the Cotton Gin in question has, since the receipt of the Board's Proceedings referred to in the said Proceedings, been kept in the Cutcherry of the Tahsildar of Hoovinbadgally, who received full instructions on the subject.

2. No Cotton growers have as yet made use of the said Cotton Gin; neither has any one come to inspect it.

3. My Acting Head Assistant, Mr. Lilly, who lately exhibited it at work during the settlement of that Talook, is of opinion that its sale, by public auction, is preferable to its being allowed to remain thus unprofitably in a building where it is liable to deteriorate by rust.

4. In this I agree with him, believing that the actual daily use of the machine by a native merchant, or influential Ryot, will be its best advertisement.

5. I may add that he has informed me that, from private inquiries made by him on the spot, there are good grounds for presuming that a fair price will be offered, if the Gin be put up to public competition.

6. I, therefore, request that permission may be given for its sale at public auction; at which, if sanctioned, Mr. Lilly would preside.

1. The Gin referred to in the foregoing letter is one of the eighteen saw Dharwar Gins, mentioned in the correspondence marginally noted. It was received at Bellary direct from the Factory, and in the first instance the Collector proposed to sell it. He was desired, however, to allow the use of it to Cotton growers so that those who were not well acquainted with a machine of the kind might see it at work.

2. It does not appear that much has been done to carry out the wishes of Government in this respect; however as the case stands, the Board agree with the Collector that it would be better to sell the machine than to leave it any longer lying idle, and they accordingly resolve to recommend Government to authorize its sale by auction in the mode suggested by Mr. Hathaway.

No. 174. ORDER THEREON, 9th June 1865, No. 1,251.

Miscellaneous.

1. The sale of the Gin is sanctioned as proposed.

2. The Board will ascertain from the Collector how far efforts were made to carry out the instructions given for placing the machine at the disposal of the local Cotton growers.

Acting Secretary to Government.
