The yearly income from it is Rupees 80 exclusive of the Pension enjoyed by the deceased.	The last incumbent died during the late cyclone, and her house was blown down. The number of the surviving members is large. They are very poor. The Collector has, therefore, the honor to recommend that the whole of the deceased's pension, Rupees 18-8-0, may be renewed in the name of the deceased's eldest son for the support of himself and family.		The Collector's proposition to continue the whole pension (Rupees 18¾ per mensem) in the name of Meer Moweenali Hussain is approved and recommended by the Board.

Gaubur Begum, 3rd daughter, aged 17 years.	No other means of subsistence but the pension.	This is the family left by the deceased Jalalub Dowlah, whose death was reported to the Board by Mr. Foord in his Tabular Statement, dated 16th March 1863, No. 65. Under the circumstances therein reported, the Board in their Proceedings, dated 8th April 1863, No. 2,002, recommended that the reduced pension of Rupees 60 a month enjoyed by the late Jalalub Dowlah be continued in the name of his eldest son Julfakar-ud-Dowlah (No. 1 in column 10). Thereupon the Government made an application to the Government of India for the necessary sanction.—Vide Proceedings, 12th May 1863, No. 816.		This pension of 10 Rupees per mensem having been granted by the Supreme Government for the support specially of the deceased, it should, under ordinary circumstances, now lapse to the State: but in consequence of the destitute condition to which the whole family appears to have been reduced by the destruction of their property in the cyclone, the Board recommend that the pension be renewed in the name of Julfakar-ud-Dowlah, the eldest son of deceased, for the support of himself and family.

The Government of India did not sanction the same, but allowed a pension of Rupees 10 per mensem for the widow Nuranissa Begum, now dead, and Rupees 5 per mensem for each of the three daughters of the late Jalalub Dowlah. They said that the pensions of the daughters should lapse on their marriage

No. 5 Khan Sahib being an insane person, the Government allowed a further sum of Rupees 10 per mensem.—Vide Government Order, dated 18th September 1863, and 19th March 1864.

The daughters having been married, no pension has since been drawn on their account.

Julfakar-ud-Dowlah having been made head of the family, he drew the pensions of his mother and brother, and paid them monthly till their death on 1st November 1864, by the late cyclone and sea inundation.

The whole of their houses were blown down, and their entire property was washed away by the sea inundation

Julfakar-ud-Dowlah and his two brothers have made an application for the renewal of their deceased father's pension to them. On inquiry it appears that they are in extreme poverty, without any means of livelihood, except that afforded by their pensions. The Collector, therefore, begs to recommend that the pensions of the deceased's Rupees 20, may be granted to Julfakar-ud-Dowlah for the support of himself and his young brothers.

The other pension of Rupees 10 per mensem (under Case 5) was enjoyed by Khan Sahib to whom it was granted in consequence of his insanity. This individual was a brother of Julfakka-rood-Dowlah to whom the continuance of the pensions in Case No. 4, has been recommended, and the Board agree with the Collector that this pension should also be renewed in the name of the latter individual who, as head of the family, has hitherto drawn both pensions amounting to 20 Rupees per mensem.

Meersultan Ally aged 19 years. Grand-daughter. 3. Sharuffunnissa Begum, aged 15 years. 4. Shaf Begum mother of the above individuals, aged 40 years.	The family of the deceased is too poor, and has no other means of livelihood but the pension.	This pension was ordered to lapse on the death of the pensioner. Considering, however, that she perished in the flood of the 1st November, and that her family has no other means of subsistence, it is recommended that two-thirds of the pension, Rupees 19, may be continued to Meer Hyder for the support of the family.		Recommended accordingly, that 19 Rupees per mensem be continued in the name of Meer Hyder Saheb for the support of himself and family.

The Collector recommends that all the above pensions may be renewed from 1st November 1864 in the names of the applicants.

In consideration of the very distressing manner in which these Pensioners lost their lives; the great loss of property sustained by their surviving relatives; and the high price of all the necessaries of life, the Collector earnestly hopes that it will not be found necessary to make any reduction in the pensions now recommended.

Resolved that the foregoing Tabular Statement be submitted for the orders of Government. The recommendation of the Board in each case will be found entered in column 14 of the Statement.

Miscellaneous.

The continuance of the pensions is approved, as proposed, under the special circumstances of distress that have befallen the families. The necessary application will be made to the Supreme Government in cases Nos. 4 and 5.
