MADRAS RECORD OFFICE.

Revenue DEPARTMENT.

G.O. No. 2708 Press ~~Mis.~~

79.80

Dated 7—11— 1865.

Not to be folded or roughly handled

No. 79. Read the following letter from Honorable C. PELLY, Member of the Board of Revenue, to the Acting Secretary to Government, Revenue Department, Fort Saint George, dated 10th October 1865:—

1. With reference to the Proceedings of Government, dated 9th September 1865, No. 2,166, sanctioning the revised scheme of District Postal Establishments for the Madras Presidency, I have the honor to submit, for submission to the Government of India, the Tabular Statement therein called for.

2. Since addressing my letter to Government, however, I have received the accompanying letter from the Postmaster General, subjoining one from the Director General of the Post Office in India, deciding that where the General Post maintains a Road Establishment, there should not be a separate District Post Road Establishment. The Postmaster General is accordingly prepared to make arrangements for the conveyance of the District Post packets on all lines, over which a District Post as well as a General Post Establishment of Runners is at present maintained, and probably, with some slight modifications, the District Post lines, mentioned in paragraph 27 of my letter to Government, will be presently abolished and handed over to the Postmaster General. I am in communication with the Collectors on the subject.

* Dated 31st August 1865, No. 3,595.

3. I beg also to submit, for the information of Government, another communication from the Postmaster General, dated 15th September 1865, forwarding a letter from the Director General, intimating that it is unnecessary to retain a District Post Office where there is a General Post Office. I had some doubt whether this arrangement could, without inconvenience, be always carried out; but I think it is very desirable to meet, as far as practicable, the wishes of the Director General, who appears so earnest to improve the District Post in combination with the General Post that I will not offer any further objection to the immediate transfer of all the Postal duties to this Department, whenever it can be effected without detriment to the public service. Mr. Liddell (in paragraph 5 of his letter to the Postmaster General of Madras, dated 29th June 1865,) truly remarks "that there is very great "room for improvement in the arrangement for the delivery of letters in rural "Districts; and it certainly is the special duty of the Post Office Department to make "every exertion to effect such improvements as are immediately practicable." And as the General Post Department is now vigorously taking up the matter of extending its operations into rural Districts, I shall be prepared hereafter to recommend the transfer of any District Post Office to the General Post Department, when I am assured that no serious inconvenience to the Revenue Department will ensue.

4. The submission of the Tabular Statement of the revised Establishment to be forwarded to the Government of India, might possibly be deferred till the above proposed changes were completed, but I think this is unnecessary. They will occupy some time to carry them out, as several references will have to be made to the District Officers. Any change will result in a reduction of the total charge now submitted for sanction, and can therefore be carried out without further reference to the Government of India, as each change is approved of. It is evident that as improvement in the operations of the General Post proceed, further changes from time to time in the District Post will have to be made, until at length the whole duties of the District Post are undertaken by the General Postal Department. It will be better, therefore, to allow the District Postal scheme, as now submitted, to stand, subject to change as the General Post from time to time is prepared to occupy its place.

No. 80. ORDER THEREON, 7th November 1865, No. 2,708.

Miscellaneous.

Ordered that the Tabular Statement received with this letter, altered as per G. O. of 31st ultimo, No. 2,662, be forwarded to the Government of India for sanction.

(True Extract.)

(Signed) W. HUDLESTON,
Acting Secretary to Government.

To the Honorable C. Pelly.

No. 4076

Postmaster Genls Office
Ingress
15th September 186

To The Honble C. Delly
Member of the Board of Revenue

Sir,

I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter No. 1832, d 30th ultimo, in which you express an opinion that it will be necess to retain the District Post offices at the District Tahsil stations
notwithstanding the establishmen of Regular Post offices at those stations in order to provide for the duties of keeping accounts of letters received and despatched, of examining the route indexes and noticing delays, and distributing letters in outlying villages. You also express an apprehension that the abolition of the District Post offices
upon the opening of a General Post Office recommended by me, may lead to the two Departments of Reven and Postal clashing with each other

other.

2. Have leave to annex for your information an Extract from a letter No. 1172. dated 29th July last from the Director General of the Post office and a copy of his Circular No. 8. of the 29th June from these you will perceive that the Director General has no doubt that the General Postal Establishment I can & ought to undertake all the duties you mention, & that therefore the retention of a District Post office where a General Post office exists is unnecessary. In this view I entirely concur, nor do I see any grounds for apprehending any clashing between the two Departments.

3 From your late report to Government, of which you have sent me a copy, I observe that the Formaish Letter Peon at at Ganjam have been discharged on the opening of a General Post office there, and I may add this I do not see it mentioned in your report, that the District Postoffices at Pallachie, Ootacamund cottah & Caraporam in the Coimbatore District, have been closed in consequence of the opening of General Postoffices at those places. the heems having been retained to distribute letters in the adjacent villages, a duty which this Department is also prepared to undertake.

May I therefore beg

4 favor of your re-considering the question, and of your acquainting me as soon as possible, what the intentions of Government

Respectfully

Regarding it.

I have the honor to be,
Sir,
Your most obedient Servant

H Reans
Postmaster General

CIRCULAR No. 8.

From

H. B. RIDDELL, Esq.,

Director General of the Post Office of India.

To

THE POSTMASTER GENERAL,

Madras.

SIMLA, 29*th June* 1865.

SIR,

I have the honor to forward, for your information, a Statement of the new Post Offices which have been opened or permanently sanctioned, and the opening of which has been authorized during the past year 1864-65 in each Postal Circle. The note in the margin is an abstract of the list; on the whole there has been a considerable increase to the number of Post Offices in the country, but I trust that, before next year's return is compiled, much more progress will be made.

	Experimentally sanctioned in previous year, but permanently sanctioned in 1864-65.	Experimentally and permanently sanctioned in 1864-65.	Opened experimentally in 1864-65.	Sanctioned, but not opened on 1st May 1865.	Total number opened and sanctioned in 1864-65.

Punjab.....	4	...	4	5	9
Madras.....	9	...	3	5	8
Total...	53	9	67	42	118

Column 5 is the Total of Columns 2, 3, and 4.

2. I will take the present opportunity of pointing out the mode in which the Post Office can, in my opinion, be most economically and most rapidly extended.

3. The District Post in each District provides a more or less regular communication between the Sudder Station of each district and all places of any importance in the interior; and if the orders of the Government of India are attended to, letters may be posted at every Police Station, but respectable natives have generally a strong dislike to enter a Police Office, and I have no doubt that in many places the number of letters posted at District Post Offices is materially affected by this prejudice. There are other drawbacks which check the increase of correspondence through the District Post. It is, therefore, very desirable that the General Post should, as soon as possible, undertake the duties of collecting and distributing letters, not only in towns but in rural Districts. In endeavouring to carry out this object the road establishments of the District Post will afford great assistance, and enable you to open Post Offices in many places where the correspondence would otherwise be insufficient to defray the cost of the establishment.

4. The returns of non-official covers, posted at and sent for delivery to each District Post, afford an easy means of ascertaining where Post Offices can be established experimentally into a fair prospect of being remunerative, and at the same time an accommodation to the neighbourhood. It will, I think, be generally found that, on the substitution of a regular Post Office for a District Post Office Receiving House, the correspondence will increase in the course of six months by about 33 per cent. Taking, therefore, the District Post returns, as a guide, Experimental Post Offices should be opened where there is a prospect of their being self-supporting.

5. The establishments to be employed at Experimental Post Offices will of course vary according to the correspondence expected, but in all cases the first object should be the improvement of the means of delivery. From the statement made in the last three annual reports, it would appear that, while 10 per cent. of the whole number of covers sent for delivery by District Post is not delivered, the percentage of undelivered letters in the General Post is only about 2 per cent. I am inclined to believe that part of this apparent discrepancy might be explained, and that the comparison might be made to appear somewhat less to the disadvantage of the District Post. But after making every allowance, it cannot be doubted that there is very great room for improvement in the arrangement for the delivery of letters in rural Districts, and it certainly is the special duty of the Post Office Department to make every exertion to effect such improvements as are immediately practicable.

6. There are great many places the correspondence of which would be insufficient to defray the cost of a regular Post Office, but which could meet the cost of a letter carrier of a superior class, whose duty it would be to deliver and collect letters for despatch in a circle of villages. A very excellent bag, for the purpose of collecting letters, has been made by Dr. Kelkelly at the Allyghur Workshop, and I have requested the Postmaster General, N. W. P., to send you a specimen. The letter carrier might have two circuits of about 10 miles each, each of which could be visited three times a week. He should be required to obtain the signature of some recognised person in each village in his beat, so as to ensure the circuit being made with regularity. Mr. Hogg, the Postmaster General of the Punjab, has suggested that Schoolmasters might, in small towns, be willing for a small additional salary to undertake the duties of Deputy Postmasters. I shall be glad if the proposal can be carried out, and request that you will communicate on the subject with the Directors of Public Instruction in your circle. The duties connected with the Post Office at a small town occupy at the utmost an hour a day, and could be performed without any detriment to other duties. The great obstacle to the extension of the Post Office to rural Districts has been the impossibility of obtaining, on the salary which can be defrayed by the correspondence the services of an intelligent and trustworthy person for a very small, portion of each day.

7. The difficulty is overcome in England by the employment, in villages and small towns, of respectable persons, who have other occupations, which, without interfering with the duties of the Post Office, allow them to earn a livelihood which the Post Office could not afford to give.

8. If some such system could be adopted to the wants of India, much of the difficulty, which now retards the progress of the Post Office, would be overcome. Schoolmasters, Postmasters, and even Burmeahs might often make fairly good Deputy Postmasters, especially if selected on the recommendation of the chief residents of the village or town in which they were employed.

9. I think it most desirable that some endeavours should be made to enlist in the service of the Post Office persons who are known and respected by their neighbours, and who have sufficient leisure to enable them to perform efficiently the simple duties of a Deputy Postmaster, and I trust that you will turn your attention to the subject with special regard to the local peculiarities of the several districts in your circle.

10. The above remarks refer especially to places, the correspondence of which will not defray the ordinary establishment, wherever there is reason to believe that the correspondence will meet the cost of establishment if an experimental Post Office should be opened.

I am, &c.,

(Signed) H. B. RIDDELL,

Director General of the Post Office of India.
