Season Report for the first fortnight of November 1866.

1. The season continues to be very favorable, and the ryots are hopeful of an abundant rice harvest.

2. A few showers fell in parts of the district.

3. The early paddy crop, which is considered an inferior sort of grain, has been partially cut and threshed, and at once thrown into the market; it is selling in the rural parts of the district at about fourteen Madras Measures the Rupee. The black gram or oolundoo has been an unusually abundant one in the Gumsur and Berhampore Talooks, but in Chicacole only half a crop has been secured in consequence of unseasonable and heavy rains.

4. The great paddy crop of the district was ripening, and in certain parts was ready to be cut. Guntulu, horse-gram, red gram, sugar-cane, and other cultivation were in a forward state. With the exception of horse-gram, prices of articles were falling everywhere.
