of being lost &c. &c. This was told to Sir C. Wood who wrote to Sir W. Denison
he found there

was the one in absence and as owing to its blackness of containing it could not be photographed, it
was ordered that

lithographed for
the use of the House of Commons & the press at public. The
of Mr. Underhill to
to the public it "within a reasonable period"
in July 1864. and
seems to have accomplished the task in July 1868.

While in the Hall,
I enquired to be then any revelation of the tract

and the remainder
will

had been marked
out, as repeated by or.
direct by p. t. but could not hear of any. The map would be useful in this way.

for ever
