Proceedings of the Madras Government, Financial Department, 10th April 1869.

No. 29. Read the following letter from the Comptroller General of Accounts, Calcutta, to all Accountants General; dated Calcutta, 25th March 1869, Circular No. 89.

I have the honor to call your attention to the fact that, on the introduction of the present system of account, it was anticipated that the Provincial Monthly Abstracts of Receipt and Expenditure would be eventually transmitted to this department within four weeks of the expiration of the month to which they refer, though at first, (Circular 8, paragraph 36,) until the system was thoroughly familiar, a period of six weeks was allowed.

Resolution, Financial Department, No. 2778, 6th October 1865.
Ditto, No. 1818, 30th March 1867.

2. This expectation has not hitherto been in all cases fulfilled; but I consider that the time has now arrived when the necessary punctuality may fairly be expected from all local Accountants and Deputy Accountants General, and I accordingly request that you will make arrangements for the despatch of your Abstracts within the month following that to which they relate, from the very earliest possible month of the approaching financial year.

3. I beg to draw your attention to the resolution quoted in the margin of the first paragraph of this letter. You will observe that the Government of India, when demanding such punctuality, pre-supposed the punctual submission of all Treasury Accounts, and provided for the issue by local Governments of stringent orders upon the subject. It will be your duty to bring to the notice of the local Government any instances in which your department is impeded by a want of attention to these orders.

4. I am aware that in some offices considerable labor will for a time be necessary in order to bring the accounts rigidly up to date. Should you consider it necessary, I will support an application to Government for temporary assistance for this object, relying on your judgment as to the degree in which it should be given; but I request that you will satisfy yourself that definite arrangements are at once made, which will efficiently and promptly secure the object in view.

5. No office of account can be considered free from arrear unless the establishment is ready to deal with statements rendered as soon as they arrive. When the first list of payments is received, the audit should at once commence, so that any error discovered may be notified through the Objection Statement to the Treasury Officer before the next month's payments are made. If this is delayed, the same error is again committed; the objection must again be raised, and the work is thus greatly increased.

6. On the other hand, it seems reasonable to expect that, when the accounts are once fairly brought up to date, the same punctuality may be hereafter maintained with less labor than is at present required.

7. I shall be glad to hear, at an early date, what definite arrangements you propose to adopt, and the date by which you estimate that complete punctuality may be secured.
