Rs 24,00,000, the estimate for the current year and Rs 24,50,000, the Regular Estimate for 1868-69 (and not Rs 26,50,000, as stated by the Deputy Comptroller General). The actuals of the first 5 months of 1868-69 which were only available when the Budget was framed shewed a decrease of nearly 2 lacs of Rupees as compared with those of the corresponding period of 1867-68. The collections to the end of December 1868 show an increase of nearly $3\frac{1}{2}$ lacs over the receipts during the like period of 1867-68. On the strength of this result the Board consider that the estimate for the ensuing year may be fixed at 28 lacs of Rupees.

3 The Board's Estimate under Stamps may also perhaps be raised to 39 lacs against the Budget estimate now of 43 lacs, but of 40. Possibly the excess increase of nearly a lac and half over the receipts in the corresponding period of the previous year, so that the receipts of 1868-69 are expected to exceed the actuals of 1867-68 8 months 1868-69 by $2\frac{1}{4}$ lacs, or to amount to upwards of $37\frac{1}{2}$ lacs - 39 lacs will not therefore perhaps be too high an estimate for 1869-70.

You will observe that the realizations during 8 months of that year amount to Rs 18,12,824 against Rs 15,45,290 received during the corresponding period of the previous year, giving an increase of Rs 2,67,534 in 8 months. At this rate the receipts of 1868-69 are expected to exceed the actuals of 1867-68 by upwards of 4 lacs, and to amount to $29\frac{1}{4}$ lacs. Considering the improvement in the revenue from Customs in the current year, I propose to put it at 30 lacs in the Budget of the ensuing year.
