In the Statement for October 1869, it was proposed to entertain this Establishment for six months only. It has now been sanctioned as a permanent charge.	The revision of these Establishments on the scale here reported was sanctioned by this Government in October 1869 as an experimental measure for six months, and this sanction was approved by the Government of India in Public Works letter, dated 9th March 1870, No. 139-F. The arrangement has now been put on a permanent footing, as the Forest Officers, after the six months' trial of the Revised Establishments, consider them to be better adapted to present requirements than those which they have superseded.
