REVENUE DEPARTMENT,

OOTACAMUND,
6th September 1872.

No. 25.

No. 1284.

To

THE SECRETARY TO THE GOVERNMENT OF INDIA, FINANCIAL DEPARTMENT.

Miscellaneous

SIR, I am directed by His Excellency the Governor in Council to transmit the enclosed memorial from Abbas Alli Khan praying for the continuance to him of a portion of his late father's pension.

2. It appears that in the year 176 the President and Council of Fort St. George granted a Jaghire of eleven villages to Jaffer Beg Khan in consideration of his services to the Company, and that subsequently—the date is not known—the Jaghire was resumed and in lieu thereof a pension of 150 Pagodas a month was granted, apparently because Jaffer Beg was discovered to be in correspondence with the French.

3. Jaffer Beg, the original grantee, died in 1794, and the same allowance was continued to his only surviving son, Abbas Alli Khan. Abbas Alli Khan died in 1801, and a reduced pension of 100 Pagodas a month was continued to his son, Talub Alli Khan. Talub Alli Khan died in 1814, and a further reduced allowance of 50 Pagodas was granted to his son, Azgur Alli Khan, on the express condition that no pension would be granted to "any future male descendant of the family," the object in making this condition, which was intimated to Azgur Alli in 1814, being that he might be induced to make an effort to provide for his family.

4. The pension was accordingly discontinued altogether in 1836 on the death of Azgur Alli, the memorialist's father.

5. I am to add that His Excellency in Council considers the claims of the memorialist to be wholly inadmissible at this date.

I have the honour to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient servant,

(Signed) W. HUDLESTON,

Secretary to Government.

3rd. In the year 1785 the Madras Government granted to Jaffer Beg Khan a jaghire of 11 villages lying near Honapalli in the present Rayasah Taluk in consideration of good services rendered by him to the late Honorable East India Company. I cannot quite say what these services were, but I believe from the records that he was employed as a kind of Vakil at Hyderabad. Some years afterwards the jaghire was resumed by Government, and he received a monthly allowance of 100 Pagodas, was granted Jaffer Beg Khan. The reason for resumption is not recorded, but the original jaghire was granted only to Jaffer Beg Khan & not to his heirs.

5 Jaffer Beg Khan died about the year 1794, leaving two sons, the younger of whom having died, the allowance was renewed in the name of the eldest son Abbas Ali Khan under the orders of Government dated 28th July 1795.

6 In the year 1801, Abbas Ali Khan died, and a reduced allowance of 100 pagodas was granted to his son Talub Ali Khan.

7 In the year 1814 Talub Ali Khan died, & on the report of the then Collector Mr Russell, the Government were pleased to grant at the recommendation of the Board, to Begun Ali Khan son of Talub Ali Khan, a reduced allowance of 50 Pagodas a month.

8 At the same time the Government resolved that after the death of Begun Ali Khan, the allowance should not be renewed to any male descendant of the family. This resolution was communicated to him.

9 Begun Ali Khan died on 27th April 1836 (leaving his son the petitioner), when the allowance lapsed to the State. It does not therefore appear that petitioner has any claim to a renewed grant of pension to himself.

on your petitioner's father obtained at first an allowance of 50 Cask Pagodas contrary to the rules upon which Asgher Ali Khan petitioned to Government demanding $\frac{2}{3}$ of what his father used to receive. About 6 years afterwards Asgher Ali Khan heard that the then Collector that he received instructions from the Government to pay him 50 Cask Pagodas instead of Caskones and to recover the surplus. Asgher Ali Khan has then sent his representations to the Government to pay him 50 Cask Pagodas, the Government took notice of them but no sooner Asgher Ali Khan left this world, they discontinued the allowance. It is clearly to be observed that Asgher Ali Khan is a single life for himself eating & drinking a day and that on the point of his death he has not taken with him a male & female servants, dependants and families but left them here only to depend on the allowance of 50 Cask Pagodas on Rs 200 for their support.

That the allowance in question was first granted in lieu of Jager land only (a permanent means of subsistence) but not of any other. That Jager was the one previously granted in lieu of the above named Circars yielding an Annual Revenue of about Rs 200000.

6. That the entire discontinuance of the allowance (as your Grace may be pleased to observe from the Government's instrument on his last accompanying prayer) without paying for your petitioner's support even at the rate usually reduced up to the time of your petitioner's father is quite unjust and contrary to the rules & practice, as there are several instances in which the allowance granted perished in his

That having been gradually reduced to such circumstances as his sufferings even for want of necessaries of life are insupportable he was now & then obliged to pawn his houses, whatans, Bungalows gardens, jewels and other property which were at last disposed off by public auction for the principal & interests due thereon to the Mortgagees. Your petitioner is now therefore utterly bereft of all assistance and consequently offers his hearty prayers to the Crown to provide him with such means of monthly allowance as he may be able to bear the remainder of his life in a manner without starvation and pray Almighty for the long life & prosperity of the Crown.

For which act of kindness Your Grace for petitioner shall as in duty bound ever pray.

2. It appears that in the year 1768 the President and Council of Fort St George granted a Jaghire of eleven villages to Saffer Beg Khan, in consideration of his services to the Honorable English East India Company and that subsequently the date is not known - the Jaghire was resumed and in lieu thereof a pension of 150 pagodas

a month's grant, apparently because Jaffer Beg was discovered to be in ^{conspirence} ~~conspiracy~~ with the French.

3. Jaffer Beg, the original grantee, died in 1794, and the same allowance was continued to his only surviving son Abbas Alli Khan - Abbas Alli Khan died in 1801 and a reduced pension of 100 pagodas a month was continued to his son Taluballi Khan - Taluballi Khan died in 1814, and a still further reduced allowance of 50 pagodas was granted to his son Aggar Alli Khan, on the express condition that no
