from this Treasury on the 10th March 1871 and the application for refund was made on the 14th Nov^r 1872.

The Government notification of 24th April 1872 pointed out by the Board requires such applications to be made within 6 months after purchase, but it will be seen that although more than 6 months elapsed in the present instance from the date of purchase, the application was nevertheless made within 6 months after 24th April 1872 the date of the rule.

I beg to be informed therefore whether the rule can be held to have retrospective effect or whether the case might not be disposed of under the rule which may have been in force in March 1871 when the stamp was purchased - if so I must further beg to be informed what that rule was for my guidance in this and similar cases -

I have the honor to be,
Yours faithfully,
E. W. Hudson

Miscellaneous No. 1562 12

The six months from the 24th April expired on the 24th October 1872. It is therefore unnecessary to discuss the question whether if the application made on 14th November had been made within six months after the notification it might have been admitted.

The undersigned has the honor to enclose for orders Madras Court Fee Stamp paper of the value of one Rupee which was sold at this Treasury for use in an appeal case before the Judicial Commissioner for Coorg on the 10th
March

March 1871.

The purchaser asks for the refund of the value stating that the paper has been rendered useless owing to certain accidental omissions in the writing.

Agreeably to a Notification of the Chief Commissioner of Coorg 7th 23rd February 1871 based on the authority of the Government of India, fresh Court Fee stamps may be given in exchange for others which have been damaged or spoilt, but in no case can the value be returned in money.

As however the stamp accounts of this Treasury are rendered to the Stamp Department of the Madras Government the instructions of the Accountant General are requested on the point, the rules in force under the Government of Madras not being known at this Treasury.
