Proceedings of the Madras Government, Revenue Department,
20th March 1873.

No. 212. From the Officiating Under-Secretary to the Government of India, (Financial Department,) to the Secretary to the Government of Madras, dated Fort William, 6th March 1873, No. 1,531.

WITH reference to the correspondence noted in the margin I am directed to request that, with the permission of His Excellency the Governor in Council, you will be good enough to explain more particularly the grounds on which the Collector of Tinnevelly has been allowed to draw his extra tentage continuously, i.e., whether he is in camp or not, until the settlement work of that district is completed. His Excellency the Governor-General in Council is of opinion that if the allowance of Rs. 7 a day is sufficient to cover an officer's expenses when he remains in camp for only a short period, it ought equally to be sufficient when he remains in camp for the greater part of the year.

Letter to Chief Secretary to Government, Madras, No. 400, dated 20th January 1873.
Endorsement do. do., 28th January 1873, and accompaniments.

Chief Secretary.

SIR,—In reply to your letter of the 6th March, instant, No. 1,531, I am directed to explain that, during the period which the settlement is expected to comprise, Mr. Puckle has not been relieved of his duties as Collector and Magistrate of the Tinnevelly District, though an additional Sub-Collector has been deputed to assist him. He will have frequent occasion to visit his chief station, but these visitations will be for brief periods in each case; his camp will be kept standing all the while, and the necessary additional establishment maintained.

I have the honour to be,
Sir,
Your most obedient servant,

(Signed) W. HUDLESTON,
