of the entire Inam is recommended because the Inam lands are so cut up that they cannot be cultivated with profit.

The Collector has entered these Inams under the head of those in which natural causes have operated to destroy their value, but it is clear from the explanatory remarks in the Statements that the loss was occasioned by an act of Government.

The Collector has not given the exact extent of the Karnam Inam-burty Inam land occupied by the channel in Hera Vadarahully.-
