M.R.O. 1—20,002—12-8-65.

(1) Number of Pages 42

(2) Date of repair 16. 3. 67

(3) Initials of the Referencer

MADRAS RECORD OFFICE

GOVERNMENT OF MADRAS

Revenue DEPARTMENT

G.O. No. 1406 Press
B.P. No. Mis.

Dated 6. 11. 1874 1876 .

Not to be folded or roughly handled

Read the following letters :—

No. 46. From G. VANSAGNEW, Esq., Collector of Nellore, to C. G. MASTER, Esq., Acting Secretary to Government, Revenue Department, dated Nellore, 28th October 1874 :—

SINCE yesterday the flood in the river has considerably abated. This forenoon there were only $12\frac{1}{2}$ feet on the crest of the anicut, which does not appear to have actually breached. The tank has nearly emptied itself, and there is communication with all parts of the town and suburbs round by Walker's road and the dispensary. The breach there into the old Rami Reddy channel is not very deep, and the flood-water is running back through it into the river, but not so deeply, but that people can wade across. The water from the Survapully channel breached into the Jaffer Sahib's channel near the head, but the masonry works are reported to be safe. The skew-bridge is safe, but the low bridge parallel to it is mostly destroyed. No lives are known to have been lost. The greatest registered height of the flood was 27 feet $4\frac{1}{2}$ inches, or 18 feet $4\frac{1}{2}$ inches over the anicut, being 2 feet $10\frac{1}{2}$ inches higher than in 1852. The telegraph wire broke, and the mast on the northern side of the anicut fell. Two out of the three large ferry boats were carried away, and there is only one available now. Directly the river is passable I will take steps to render assistance to sufferers on the northern side. I greatly fear that the population of some whole villages may have been swept away. To-day we are putting labor on the embankment and tank breaches. Mr. R. Smith expects to commence closing the tank breach this evening, and to-morrow the breach at Baba Row's chuttrum by the head-sluice should be tackled. Materials are being collected, by to-morrow I hope to be able to begin to restore communication at the skew-bridge. Our cart communication with the delta is intercepted by breaches in the road from the town to the Stonehouse-pet bridge, and that I have ordered to be tackled at once. The great northern road appears to have breached between Gudur and Manubole, and an Overseer has been despatched to restore communication there. This will tend to keep prices down, which at present are naturally high here, though there is no lack of paddy. Many people are very badly off, but there will, for the present, be labor on repair works for all who can work. The mails from Tripaty came in to-day, bringing only Saturday's letters from Madras. Soon after I had them opened by Mr. Plunkett, the Deputy-Postmaster managed to get round, and everything was handed over to him. The Gudur Tahsildar wrote me that there were $8\frac{1}{2}$ inches of rain there on Sunday (25th), and that several tanks had burst, but the Gudur and Chennur large tanks were safe. The Chennur channel had breached in several places which was probably fortunate. I have got the treasury open to-day, but there is, of course, a complete suspension of all ordinary business. As soon as communication with the north bank of the river is open, I intend to call in the Udayagiri Tahsildar to attend to affairs in the northern delta of this taluq, and I shall utilise the services of the Special Deputy-Collector. The Tahsildar of Nellore has too much to do in procuring labor and materials for the works on this side of the river to attend to the other side. I have not yet heard whether telegraphic communication with the south has been restored yet, but efforts have, I know, been made in that direction.

2. It is impossible to calculate yet what the loss of crops will be, but I hope that the submersion will not be long enough to destroy a very large proportion. After what has happened, however, I trust the Nellore Taluq will be leniently dealt with this year.

No. 47. From the same officer, dated 29th October 1874.

I RECEIVED your demi-official yesterday, informing me that Kanchi Subba Row would, on being relieved by an Assistant Collector, revert to his post of Tahsildar of Nellore. Considering the present state of affairs here, I beg that either an Assistant who can talk Telugu with ease may be sent to me or Kanchi Subba Row or some one else may be posted to this district as a Deputy-Collector for general duties in lieu of an Assistant. To-day Mr. Mackenzie and Captain Chrystie are both hors de combât from the effects of exposure to rain and sun, and my Special Deputy-Collector is also suffering from fever. There will be a great deal of rough out-door work to be done for a long time in restoring communications and inspecting the crops. I have received scarcely any information yet from outside; but I fear that the whole of the southern and northern deltas must have suffered very severely. I suspect most of the tanks have burst. I apprehend that the large Kanigiri tank north of the river between Sangam and Buchireddipollium must have breached; for it was full, and I believe the flood must have topped the head-sluice of its supplying channel at Sangam. The Cuddapah road, viâ Sangam, is probably greatly destroyed. I was at the anicut this morning with Mr. R. Smith. The water on the crest had fallen to between eight and nine feet. Whatever damage may have happened to the apron the body wall is intact. What has happened is that the river has turned the northern flank of the anicut and permanently increased its breadth by apparently some eighty yards. Only one of the wing-walls is visible, and it is standing up at right angles to its proper position. One of the two ferry boats that had been reported lost was secured on the northern side and got across this morning, but the men had no news. Thirty persons saved themselves on the roof of the choultry on the northern bank at the anicut. I arranged to send a boat across with two of my Daloyets, and gave them orders to the Allur Deputy-Tahsildar to report damages and institute relief measures, drawing funds from the Iskapilly Salt Treasury, and to the Kavali Tahsildar to come down at once and take charge of the northern delta and take the necessary relief steps. Orders have also gone by post to the Udayagiri Tahsildar to repair to Sangam and do the needful in that direction. Considerable fears are entertained about Devaroyapully, the headquarters of the Utmakur Taluq. It lies low by the river, and on the occasion of the 1852 flood it suffered. The records in the cutcherry were damaged I am told. The condition of the town of Nellore generally is distressing to see. Roads cut to pieces and ruins in almost all directions. The catastrophe is far too great for Municipal resources to cope with. The whole expenditure on the water-supply works may be considered lost—about 8,000 Rupees, the works having been carried away or ruined. I am having lists of the ruined houses made by the Municipal Commissioners. It is very questionable whether some of the ruined pettahs should be rebuilt on the old sites; but it will be difficult to select new sites.

48 From the same officer, dated 30th October 1874.

THE river has continued to fall, there being $6\frac{1}{2}$ feet over the anicut to-day. More of the northern bank has cut away since yesterday. The breach there is probably 100 yards. This permanent addition to the width of the river will be worth the cost of extending the anicut. I had hoped that Mr. Mackenzie would have been well enough to have crossed the river to-day and taken the direction of affairs on that side; but finding him too unwell I am sending Mr. Plunkett over. Captain Chrystie is very unwell, and P. Soobbier, the Special Deputy-Collector, is in a very low and weak state from fever. I have no official news from the north bank, but I have, what I believe to be true, intelligence that the head-sluices of both the large channels at Sangam have been carried away together with half the village of Sangam, and that both the large tanks of Kanigiri and Duvur have breached, and that only a very few houses are left standing in the large village of Buchireddipollium; all the houses in Duvur having collapsed, no lives, however, having been lost in any of the three places. The water from the Kanigiri tank would not flow to the river but inland along the line of the Maldevi, and probably joining the Paideru river cutting up the great northern road over a large extent and doing immense mischief, very likely reaching as far north as Allur and bursting the large tank there. Communication by cart with the south should be restored to-day. A heavy fresh in the Kundlair injured 3 miles of the road to the north of Gudur badly. I have restored communication with Nawabpett and the delta on the Mypaud and Kodur roads, and several carts laden with grain entered the town to-day. Ring bunds have been formed at the breaches at the Nellore tank head-sluice at Babu Row's choultry and at Nellore. The making up of the river-embankment at Runganaikulupett is in rapid progress.

2. I have made no promises in regard to grants in aid of rebuilding houses, and I should be glad to learn the intentions of Government on the subject. I have great doubts of the expediency of holding an Agricultural Exhibition at Nellore this season after what has happened, and I shall be glad of orders on the subject at an early date. Rumour says that there has been great loss in cattle on the northern side of the river.

---

49 From the same officer, dated Nellore 1st November 1874.

THERE were about $4\frac{1}{2}$ feet of water on the crest of the anicut this morning. The northern bank continues to be cut away, but Mr. R. Smith went across yesterday morning and commenced throwing out a stone groyne to prevent further erosion. Mr. Smith has also visited Babu Row's chuttrum. I enclose a tracing that will explain matters. The Nellore tank when full really extends up to the high ground marked thereon. Mr. Smith found the head-sluice little injured through the water had gone right over it. The whole of the bund* extending from it to the high ground, which had only recently been made up to what was considered a safe level, had been carried away. There was a breach in the tank-bund (also there the river embankment) at B, and there was a large breach in the high river-embankment at C, opposite the village of Potapollum. Many people and cattle had taken refuge on the embankment on both sides of C. A good deal of money has been spent in the last two seasons on the embankment all the way down from the head-sluice to near the dispensary, and Mr. Smith says that it stood well except at C where there had evidently been a heavy set off an island. The tank burst at E, and would otherwise have burst at the pagoda a little west of E, where the water had considerably topped the bund. Not a moment has been lost in attacking all these points of danger, and if rain and flood hold off for a couple of weeks, I think we shall be safe from all but extraordinary floods as far as the south bank of the river is concerned. The river broke in desparately at Sangam and got into both the Duvur and Kanigiri tank-channels. The head-sluice of the Kanigiri tank was alone destroyed, but both tanks breached, and the Government will see from the tracing the course the water took down the Maldevi river or channel, so that the whole country between the Maldevi and the Pennair was fearfully inundated by the waters of both. The Pydern was also in heavy flood. I am still without information of the eastermost villages of the northern delta. West of the northern road and in the nearer villages east of it there has been no loss of life as far as I know, except of one old woman; nor in the southern delta, though the whole population of Potapollum between the river-embankment and the Nellore tank and of Potempad under the Survapally tank were in great jeopardy, the latter from the flood waters that passed through Nellore, their village lying particularly low. Steps are being taken to shut the river out at Sangam and close the breaches in the Duvur and Kanigiri tanks. Devaroyapully is so far safe, that only a part of the houses were destroyed and the compound wall of the cutcherry. Great deal of work has been done during the week in repairing damages, all departments working together with complete harmony.

*Marked A.

No. 50.

ORDER THEREON, 6th November 1874, No. 1,406.

Miscellaneous.

THE Governor in Council is indebted to Mr. VansAgnew for the detailed reports recorded above relative to the disasters which have befallen the Nellore District. He is glad to observe how promptly and efficiently repairs are being undertaken and with what zeal all departments co-operate in the necessary operations.

2. A temporary Deputy-Collector will be appointed to Nellore in accordance with the Collector's request.

3. The introduction of the new settlement will be postponed for the current fasli wherever Mr. VansAgnew may consider the circumstances of a village require this concession.

4. The Governor in Council agrees with the Collector that it will not be expedient to hold the Agricultural Exhibition at Nellore during the coming Spring.

5. No positive instructions can be given as to aid for rebuilding houses until the Government are in possession of the probable cost of any such general advance. They will consider at once any special cases which the Collector may bring to their notice.

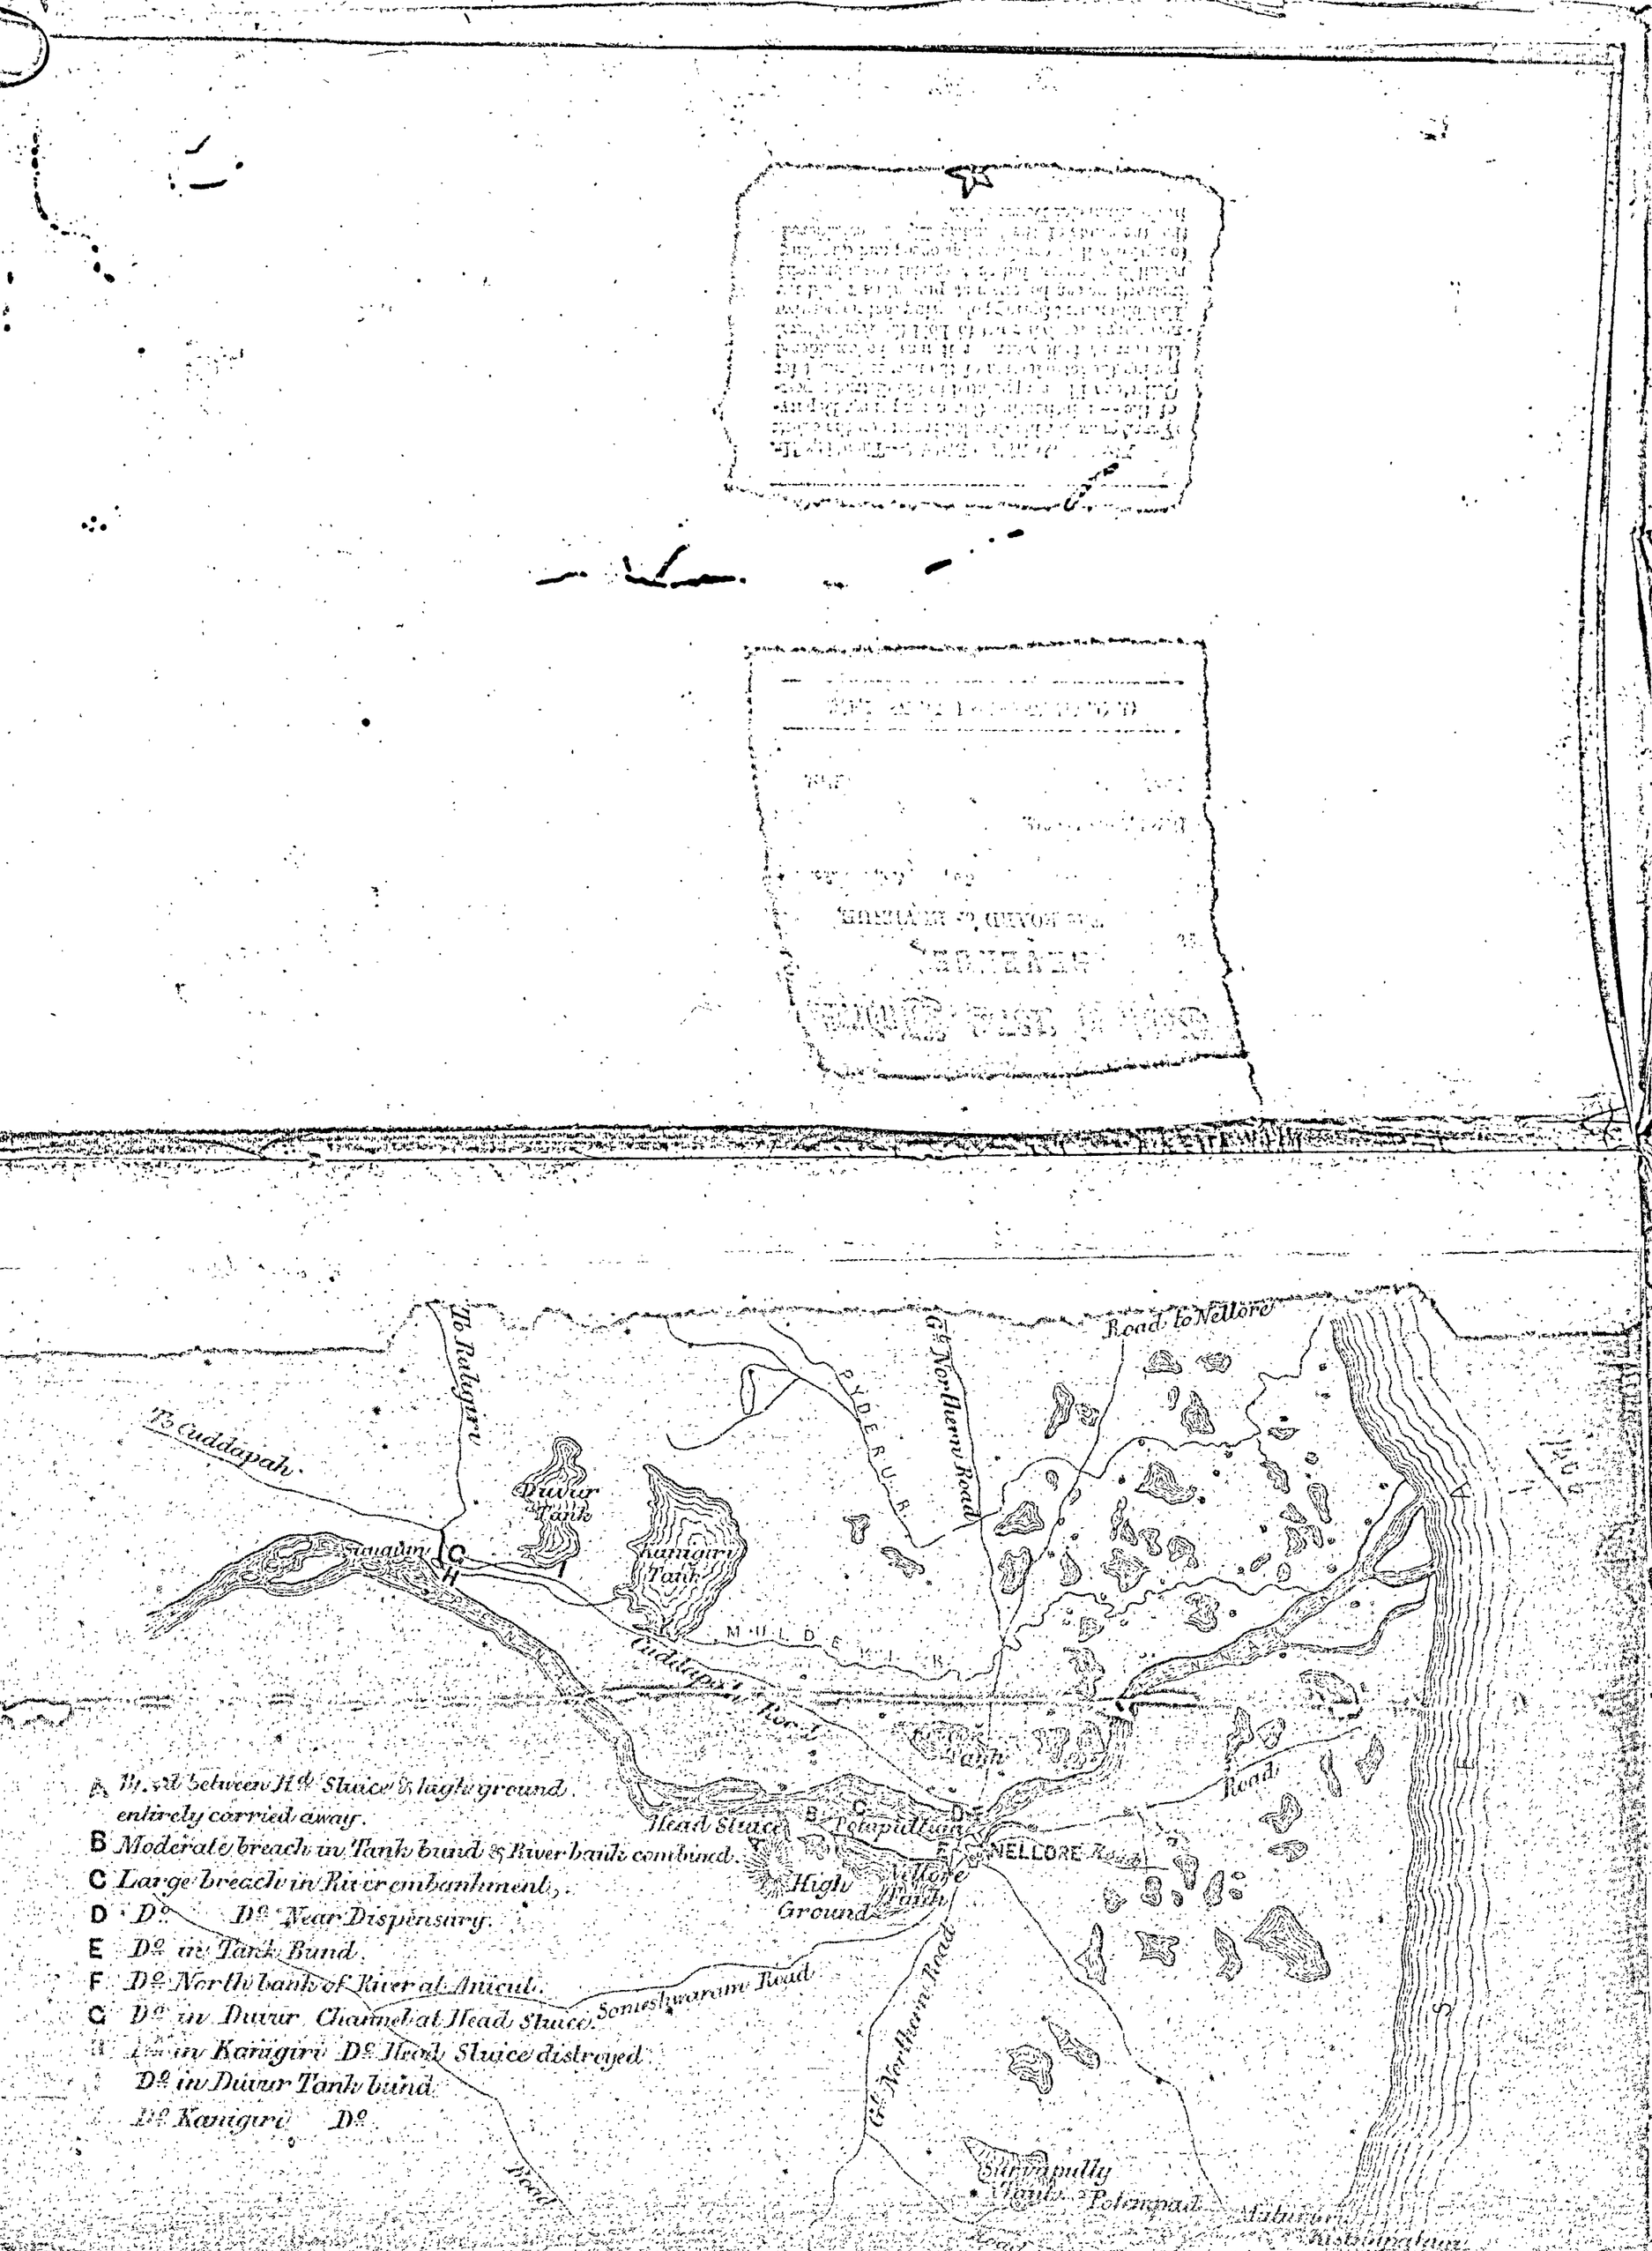

6. The wants of the Municipality will be considered in the Financial Department.

(True Extract.)

(Signed) C. G. MASTER,
Acting Secretary to Government.

To the Board of Revenue.
„ the Financial Department.
„ the Public Works Department.
„ the Collector of Nellore.
„ the Accountant-General.
„ the Director of Revenue Settlement.

Erd. F. R. Bantleman.

To Ratlapur
To Cuddapah
Road to Nellore
G.T. Northern Road
PYDERUB
Duvur Tank
Kanigiri Tank
Cuddapah Road
MULDERU
PENNA
Tank
Road
Head Sluice
Tolapillum
NELLORE Road
High Ground
Nellore Tank
Somesswarum Road
G.T. Northern Road
Road
Sirrapully Tank
Polampad
Auburn
Rishiapatam
A Breach between Hd Sluice & high ground entirely carried away.
B Moderate breach in Tank bund & River bank combined.
C Large breach in River embankment.
D Dº Dº Near Dispensary.
E Dº in Tank Bund.
F Dº North bank of River at Anicut.
G Dº in Duvur Channel at Head Sluice.
H Dº in Kanigiri Dº Head Sluice destroyed.
Dº in Duvur Tank bund.
Dº Kanigiri Dº

compensation for land taken up for public purposes & he is going out like him- but the expenses of his staff are laid up with fever contracted from exposure
he goes to Accra can have
by object & the extra aid at such a time.

1. I will pay the collector proceeds for the operation after new settlement whenever he thinks it desirable.

2. I would pay the extra aid required, as at present

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

No. 1405/74

From Collector of Nellore

Dated 28 & 29 Oct 1874

FOR ORDERS.

These are further reports on the effects of the floods at Nellore.

Mr Innes Agent thinks that the Nellore Taluq may be efficiently dealt with as to the Survey. It might be well to postpone the operation of the new settlement wherever the Collector thinks it desirable.

The Collector asks for a competent Assistant or Special Deputy Collector. He already has one for Special work for settling

FOR ORDERS.

Special

1405

1406/6

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

No. 3832

From Collector of Nellore

Dated 30 October 1874.

FOR ORDERS.

In answer to Mr. Handley's advance of a Portmanteau &c. for Calls — I do not refer the Calls now — but there is time enough I should think that a Committee consisting of Mr. Handley & the Cashier of the Bank will be too heavy when public damage is so little at stake

I do not see any objection to the proposed advance
if the Bank Committee approve of it.

[illegible]

The Sec. can enable to hold out hopes this respect but will consider any special case [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] (as regard [illegible] to say but we can give no positive instructions until we know some [illegible] the Collector in the particular case [illegible] any such general advance on account of refundings as will be reasonable? The Board

[illegible] Collectorship [illegible] of the Vizagapatam

[illegible]

[illegible] [illegible]

The above application should be [illegible]

[illegible]

I concur. but in the [illegible] to make advances no doubt. The Govt in these circumstances [illegible] should be [illegible]

FOR ORDERS.

a letter + minute transmitting Annual
& the total cost
& clearing & conveyance, & that no trouble is likely to arise
for a Special Grant.

£ 211
5 11

C. 3 Nov.

Nellore

From C. Maclagan Esqre
Collector of Nellore 28th October 1874

To C.G. Master Esqre
Off Secretary to Government

Sir

Since yesterday the flood in the river has considerably abated - This forenoon there were only 12½ feet on the crest of the Anicut which does not appear to have actually breached - The tank has nearly emptied itself & there is communication with all parts of the town & suburbs round by Walker's road & the Lighthouse road - The breach there into the old Kamakshi channel is not very deep & the flood water is running back thro it into the river but not so deeply but that people can wade across - The water from the Surapalli channel breached into the Jaffer Sahib's channel near the head but the masonry works are reported to be safe - The Iron bridge is safe, but the low bridge parallel to it is much destroyed - Two lives are known to have been lost - The greatest registered height of the flood was 27 feet 4½ inches or 18 ft 4½ inches over the amount, being 2 ft 10½ inches higher than in 1852. The telegraphic wire broke & the mast on the northern side of the ancient fell two out of the 3 large ferry boats were carried away & there is only one available now - strictly the river is passable I will take steps to render assistance to sufferers on the northern side. I greatly fear that the population of some whole villages may have been swept away. Today we are putting labors on the embankment & tank breaches - Mr. K Smith expects to commence closing the tank breach this evening, & tomorrow the breach at Baba Rows cluttrum by the head sluice & mouth be tackled. Materials are being collected. By tomorrow I hope to be able to begin to restore communication at the Khan bridge - our cart communication with the Delta is intercepted by breaches in the road from the town to the Khan house = pett bridge & that I have ordered to be tackled at once. The ft Northern road where to have breached between Gudur & Manubolu & an overseer has been despatched to restore communication there. This will tend to check prices down which at present are naturally high here, tho' there is no lack of fuel— Many people are very badly off; but there will for the present be labor on repair works for all who can work

The mails from Napier came in today bringing only Saturday's letters from Madras. Soon after I had them opened by Mr Plunkett the Deputy Postmaster managed to get round & everything was handed over to him —
The Inspector Public works wrote me that there were 8½ inches of rain there on Sunday (25th) & that several tanks had burst, but the Inspector & Engineer large tanks were safe.
The Chennur channel had breached in several places Much was probably fortunate —
I shall get the Treasury open today, but there is of course a complete suspension of all ordinary business. As soon as communication with the north bank of the river is open I intend to call in the Wanganui Inhabitants to attend to affairs in the northern Section of this district & I shall entrust the services of the Special Deputy Collector. The Inhabitants of Hellier has too much to do in procuring labour & materials for the works on this side of the river to attend to the other side

I have not yet heard whether telegraphic communication with the South has been restored yet; but efforts have been been made in that direction -
It is impossible to calculate yet what the loss of crops will be, but I hope that the submersion will not be long enough to destroy a very large proportion - after what has happened however I trust the Railroad Embankment will be cleared dealt with this year -

I have the honor to be
Sir
Your most Obedient Servant

Copy forwarded for the information of the Board of Revenue -

Francis Clement -
Collector

From J. Evans Esquire Collector Nellore
Collector of Nellore 29th October 1874

To C S Master Esqre
Ag Secretary to Govt

Sir

I received your Demi-Official yesterday informing me that Munchi Subba Row wished on being relieved by our Assistant Collector revert to this post of Nellore. Considering the present state of affairs here I beg that either our Assistant Who can talk Telugu with ease may be sent to me or Munchi Subba Row or someone else may be posted to this District as a Dept Coll for General duties in lieu of our Assistant. Today Inf. Mallenpia & Cobt Chrystie are both hors de combat from the effects of exposure to rain & sun & my Special Sub Collector is also suffering from fever. There will be a great deal of rough outdoor work to be done for a long time in restoring communications & inspecting the crops. I have received scarcely any information yet from outside but I fear that the Whole of the southern & northern Deltas must have suffered very severely. Further

No 3821.
Revenue 874 Despatch
From
The Collector of Nellore
Dated 28th Oct. 1874
Rec'd 2nd Nov.
(Bob. 11106-60 Encl.)
Requiring explanation
Collector's letter

Most of the lands have been [illegible] Suffield that the large Manipiri lands north of the river between Langam & Bachiriddipallium must have breached for it was full & I believe the flood must have topped the headsluice of its supplying channel at Langam. The Cuddapah road via Langam is probably greatly destroyed. I was with Conant this morning with Mr. R Smith. The water on the crest had fallen to between 8 & 9 feet.
What damage may have happened to the upper bund wall is intact. What has happened is that the river has formed the northern flank of the anicut & permanently increased its breadth by apparently some 80 yards. Only one of the sluice walls is visible & it is standing up at right angles to its proper position. One of the two ferry boats that had been saved has now returned on the northern side & the ferry this morning, but the river had two rises. 30 persons saved themselves on the roof of the chavadi on the northern bank at the anicut.
I arranged to send a boat across with two of my Subordinates & some men in order to the Collector Supt. Tahsildar to report damages & initiate relief measures. Drawing funds from the Sub-Pally Sub Treasury & to the Revenue Tahsildar to come down at once & take charge of the northern Delta & take the necessary relief steps. Orders have also gone by post to the Udayagiri Tahsildar

From Edwd Allen Ewell
Collector of Nellore
To C.S. Master Esqre
Sy Secretary to Govt

Nellore.
30th October 1874

Sir

The river has continued to fall, there being 6½ feet over the anicut today. More of the northern bank has cut away since yesterday - The breach there is probably 100 yards. This permanent addition to the width of the river will be worth the cost of extending the anicut. I had hoped that Mr Mackenzie would have been well enough to have crossed the river today & taken the direction of affairs on that side, but finding him too unwell I am sending Mr Plunkett over - Capt Murphie is very unwell & Hobbier the Asst left Coll is in a very low & weak state from fever. I have no official news from the north bank, but I have what I believe to be true intelligence that the head sluices of both the large channels of Sangam village & Tsunur have breached & that only in very few houses are left standing in the large village of Sankareddipollium, all the houses in Tsunur having collapsed, no lives however having been lost in any of the 3 places. The water from the Nanjini Valle would do well to flow to the river but inland along the line of the Naidevi & probably joining the Pandem river, cutting up the Gudur road over a large extent & doing immense mischief, very likely reaching as far north as Allur & beyond the large tank there - Communication by cart with the ~~South~~ South should be restored today - A heavy freshet in the Mundlan injured 3 miles of the road to the north of Pnom bady - Shame retarded communication with Nanubpett & the Delta on the Highland & Baran road & several carts laden with grain entered the town today King bund have been formed at the breaches at the Pellore Tank head sluice at Baba Ramchandra & at Pellore - The making up of the river embankment at Ranipamakulapett is in rapid progress -

for order | I have made no promises in regard to grants in aid of roads — tanks & I intend to explain to them the intentions of Govt on the subject - for order | I have great doubts of the efficiency of Govt agricultural Exhibition at Pellore this season after what has happened & I shall be glad of orders on the subject at an early date - Rumour says that there will be great lots in cattle on the northern side of the river -

Shame Thalamba Pillai for Govt Protodisdistrict Superintendent
Collector

Lots forwarded for the inform of the Bd of Revenue

From Sir Lewis Tregear Pelly
Collector of Nellore
To C. S. Master Esqre
Sy Secretary to Govt

Nellore
1st November 1874

Sir

I have here about 4½ feet of water on the anicut this morning - the northern bank continues to be cut away, but Mr. H. Smith went across yesterday morning & commenced throwing out a stone groyne to protect further erection. Mr. Smith has also erected Baker Row's chattrum - I enclose a tracing that will explain matters. The hollow tank which will really extends up to the high ground marked thereon - Mr. Smith found the head sluice bottle injured tho' the water had gone right over it. The bank of the bund extending from it to the high ground, which had only recently been made up to what was considered a safe level had been carried away - There now a breach in the tank bund (also there the river embankment) at B, & there was a large breach in the high river embankment at C opposite the village of Potapollium - Many people & cattle had taken refuge on the embankment on both sides & C a good deal of money has been spent in the Coast Line Stations on the embankment all the way from the head sluice to near the Observatory & Mr. Smith says that it stood well except at C where there has evidently been a heavy scour & an island - The tank burst at E & would otherwise have burst at the point a little west of E where the water had considerably topped the bund - but a moment has been lost in attacking all these points of danger & if rain & flood take off for a couple of weeks I think we shall be safe from all but extraordinary

+marked A

Received 20th Nov. 1874
From Sir Lewis Tregear Pelly
Rec. 3 Nos. Dep. Sec. Govt. Nos. 3832 dated 1st Nov. 1874
Oct 1806 - Disasters of Nellore
Submitted to Hon. Col. Master
Thanks expressed on behalf of Govt.
Forwarded
C.S.M.

48

floods as far as the south bank of the river is concerned. The river broke in deliberately at Sangam & flowed into both the Drewar & Manipuri tank channels. The Lecco sluice of the Manipuri tank was alone destroyed, but both tanks breached & the Govt will see from the tracing the course the water took down the Maldevi river or channel, so that the whole country between the Maldevi & the Kennur was fearfully inundated by the waters of both. The Pydem was also in heavy flood. I am still with information of the easternmost villages of the northern delta. West of the northern road & in the nearest villages east of it there has been no loss of life as far as I know except of one old woman. Nor in the southern delta, the whole population of Potatopalum between the river embankment & the Nellore tank, & of Potempalem under the Servapalli tank were in great jeopardy the latter from the flood waters that lapped their village quite particularly low Nellore, their village lying particularly low. Steps are being taken to shut the river out at Sangam & close the breaches in the Drewar & Manipuri tanks. Servapalli is so far safe that only a part of the houses were destroyed & the compound wall of the cutcherry. A great deal of work has been done during the week in repairing damages all departments working together with complete harmony.

I have the honor to be
Sir
Your most obedt Servt
Francis Edward
Collector

Copy with copy of tracing to the Bd of Revr for information

From
the Collection of Hotel de Ville
Paris

Revenue Dept.

No. 1406

Proceedings of the Madras Government
Dated 6th November 1874.

Read the following letters from the Collector of Nellore.

Reporting on the results of the flood & requesting that Letter an Apt. or Dy. Coll. Carachi Subba Rau may be posted to the district owing to the present state of affairs.	No. 28, 29, & 30 Dated 31 Oct. & 1 Nov. 1874

The Governor in Council is indebted to Mr. Vans Agnew for the detailed reports recorded above relative to the disasters which have befallen the Nellore District. He is glad to observe how promptly and efficiently repairs are being undertaken and with what zeal all departments co-operate in the necessary operations.

2. A temporary Deputy Collector will be appointed to Nellore in accordance with the Collectors request.

3. The introduction of the new settlement will be postponed for the current fasli wherever Mr Vans Agnew may consider the circumstances of a village require this concession

4. The Governor in Council agrees with the Collector that it will not be expedient to hold the Agricultural Exhibition at Nellore during the coming spring.

5. No positive instructions can be given as to aid for rebuilding houses until the Govt are in possession of the probable cost of any such general advance. They will consider at once any special cases which the Collector may bring to their notice.

6. The wants of the Municipality will be considered in the Financial Department

14 Board of Rev
5 Financial Dept
21 P.W. Dept
1 Collr of Nellore
6 Accountant General
13 Directors Rev Sett

Box 7
Folder 50
Stories

46-50.