2. R. Raggonath Rao possesses good qualifications for the work in view, and is known to the Madras Government as an officer of ability, experience, and high principle, as evidenced by the accompanying printed testimonials. I have special confidence on those qualifications.

3. I beg, therefore, you will be so good as to obtain the orders of the Government of India to place Raggonath Rao's services at the disposal of this State for a period of six months the remuneration for such services being undertaken by His Highness' Government. If the Government of India is disposed to oblige in this respect, it will have to send the necessary instructions to that of Madras. His Highness trusts that His Excellency the Viceroy in Council will be so good as to exempt Raggonath Rao from any payment to the British Government out of the moderate remuneration he will receive from His Highness, and to permit the loan of his services without prejudice to his position and prospects in the British service.

4. His Highness desires that the settlement work should begin early next month, and I shall, therefore, feel obliged by your taking the necessary steps at your earliest convenience.

No. 85. ORDER THEREON, 10th November 1874, No. 1,425.

Miscellaneous.

ORDERED that the following telegram be despatched to the Collector of Madras:—

"Ask if Raghunada Row agrees to go to Indore for six months to introduce revenue reforms under His Highness Maharajah Holkar. Wire answer."

(True Extract.)

[illegible], that the services of Raggonath Rao, Deputy-Collector of Madras, may be placed at his disposal for six months, in view to the introduction of reforms in the revenue assessment of Indore.

2. The oppressive nature of the assessments now in force is notorious. Every thing is uncertain, except the ever failing demand on the ryots. No reform worthy the name can be made in the Indore State till the revenue collections are moderated and fixed.

3. Sir T. Madava Rao has hitherto been debarred by His Highness from dealing with revenue matters. His time has been given to framing appeals to prove the Maharaja's right to extend his territories at the expense of his neighbors. He has been allowed to establish Courts of Justice, and to give the officers who preside in them high sounding names and titles. But confidence in justice and security of property, where they have had no existence, come slowly, and cannot take root upon mere flourishes.

4. The application now submitted is of a wholesome character, and, I trust, will meet with compliance. I am informed by Sir T. Madava Rao that his relative understands and can speak Oordoo. Without this power of speech with the people of the country other qualifications, however high, would be of little worth.

5. As Raggonath Rao's services are asked for six months only, I would suggest that as Maharaja Holkar will bear his salary and compensate him to his satisfaction, that there shall be no allusion or charge to the Durbar respecting his pension contribution for that short period.

From Sir T. MADAVA RAO, Minister to His Highness Maharajah HOLKAR, to Captain D. W. K. BARR, Officiating First Assistant Agent to the Governor-General for Central India dated Indore, 6th October 1874, No. 891.

I HAVE the honor to state that His Highness the Maharajah desires to engage temporarily the services of R. Raggonath Rao (at present Deputy-Collector at Madras) in connection with the land-revenue settlement of a portion of His Highness' territories, the leases of which are about to fall in.

The Govt. of India asks by telegraph whether
