No. 47. Read the following letter from H. WELLESLEY, Esq., Officiating Secretary to the Chief Commissioner of Mysore, to C. G. MASTER, Esq., Acting Secretary to Government, Revenue Department, Fort St. George, dated Bangalore, 25th February 1874, No. 6,476-55:—

I AM to state, for the information of His Excellency in Council, that Doctor Cleghorn is sending out a case containing twelve Ipecacuanha plants for experimental growth in this country, and he suggests that some of them may be tried in the Burliar Garden below Coonoor, where he considers they would thrive better than in Bangalore. Should the Madras Government be disposed to give the plants a trial as suggested, the Officiating Chief Commissioner will be glad to make over six of the plants on their arrival.

2. An extract from Dr. Cleghorn's letter on the subject is appended for information.

Extract from a letter from H. CLEGHORN, Esq., M.D., dated 28th January 1874.

The Ipecacuanha plants require a climate like that of the western ghauts, with great heat and moisture (such as Burliar garden below Coonoor), and I would suggest that some of them be sent there, as Bangalore is probably too dry and exposed. After propagation there, a larger stock might be obtained for introduction to Coorg or Bababooden ranges (some sheltered nook).
