No. 112. Read the following Proceedings of the Board of Revenue, dated 10th March 1874:—

Read the following letter from A. WEDDERBURN, Esq., Collector of Coimbatore, to J. GROSE, Esq., Secretary to the Board of Revenue, dated Coimbatore, 8th March 1874, No. 53.

I HAVE the honour to forward, for the information of the Board of Revenue and of Government, a letter I have just received from my Acting Head Assistant Collector Mr. Rice, and reply thereto, regarding an "anticipated scarcity to some extent."

Copy of Head Assistant Collector's letter, No. 48, of 7th March 1874.
Letter to ditto, No. 236, of 8th March 1874.

2. A full report on this subject will be forwarded; but, in the meantime, whenever any anticipations of scarcity are entertained, the nature of relief to be afforded, if such anticipations are realized, requires previous forethought and decision; a scarcity well provided against in such cases results in good effects of a permanent nature, instead of an ineffective scattering of money.

3. Any relief to be of use should be very prompt, and if the nature of it be previously determined on, it can be so.

4. I speak from experience on this point, as when on my joining Bellary in 1866 I found immediate measures of relief required, I had to provide work for about 14,000 persons, 6,000 under my own supervision; and to provide suitable and instant work was a matter of great difficulty.

5. I have indicated in my letter to the Head Assistant the work which will be found most suitable. There are many desirable works connected with the supply of water, but, as noted, these are the province of a separate profession who are never unemployed owing to the progress of agricultural improvements, and consequently do not require relief.

6. The repair of village lanes, which from long neglect have become even difficult of passage, seems to be the most suitable work from its being so widely extended, and so near the residences of the presumed distressed parties, and from its not being undertaken by the Local Fund, and so not competing with ordinary work.

7. When I took charge of this district in 1868, my predecessor had advertised a scarcity when three works had been proposed: the clearance of the silt of a tank, the construction of a road, and the clearance of an obstructed jungle-canal.

8. The first would have been an utterly unprofitable expenditure of money; the second was undertaken, but it confined the relief to a small area; and as the third happened to be in an uninhabited country it was not undertaken at all at the time. These were the results of hurried proposals and Tahsildars' suggestions; and that expenditure in the present occasion may be useful is the object of the present reference. A few thousand rupees (say, within ten) will probably meet any demand; this can be at once arranged when rough estimates are prepared, but the plan of relief is submitted for early sanction of Government. Expenditure will not exceed requirements.

ENCLOSURE No. 1.

From A. WEDDERBURN, Esq., Collector of Coimbatore, to R. RICE, Esq., Acting Head Assistant Collector of Coimbatore, dated 8th March 1874, No. 236.

WITH reference to your letter of the 7th instant, No. 48, I have the honour to request you will inform me, at an early date, the grounds on which you apprehend scarcity in your division during the year, noting in detail the failure, and to what extent, of crops.

2. So far as I am aware, raggi is the staple of food; this is grown chiefly as a garden-crop under wells; whether wells have dried up and so caused loss of any of such crop should be stated. In such cases, a suitable relief would be the advance of money to deepen the wells.

3. I believe that the dry-ground crops have been poor from the absence of rain; if scantiness of crops has affected the cultivators, and has been very general, and to a great extent, it becomes a question of remission or postponement of demand.

4. If, again, there are such numbers of destitute poor, whose livelihood is the collection of grass for sale, or daily miscellaneous labour, which is impeded, or for which there is not a demand, this fact should be separately stated.

5. Careful inquiries into these details are necessary when announcing a "scarcity to some extent;" for upon these details depends the sort of relief.

6. As regards periodical reports on the state of the season, there is no ground for expecting a change of season at this time of year. The cultivating season is over, and at least two months must elapse before it is renewed. Crops are nearly all harvested, so that whatever distress has to be met must depend on present actualities, and not on future prospects.

7. It seems most probable to me that the poor may be pinched from the rise of the price of grain which may be expected; but here again, the rise will chiefly be in paddy or rice which this district imports to some extent; it is not a staple which affects the poor.

8. It would be of use if you ascertain any authentic rise in the price of grains consumed by the poor.

9. It is always objectionable to commence work in a hurry, and without sufficient forethought; and to leave the selection of work to the Tahsildars is not, in my opinion, a correct procedure. The works to be undertaken should be considered at once.

10. Ordinary road-repairs are generally the usual mode of relief as applicable to unskilled labour; irrigation-works and well-sinking belong to a professional class who are fully employed in all seasons, and who, therefore, seldom experience distress.

11. In my opinion, any special measure of relief should consist in the repair and improvement of ittaries or village lanes. These are not undertaken by the Local Fund, and they are specially suitable as affording work to people in the immediate vicinity of their villages.

12. If you will, therefore, find out in what parts distress exists, and to what extent, i.e., affecting what proportion of the people, and get estimates prepared of the cost of improving such ittaries or lanes, including the clearance from them of obstructions as prickly pear, a permanent good will be effected, and a work supplied suitable to the class for whom it should be undertaken.

From R. RICE, Esq., Acting Head Assistant Collector, to A. WEDDERBURN, Esq., Collector of Coimbatore, dated 7th March 1874, No. 48.

I THINK it right to bring to your notice that there are reasons for apprehending scarcity to some extent in the taluqs comprising my division. I have directed the Tahsildars to keep me informed, from time to time, of the state of the season, etc., in their taluqs, and I have, at the same time, thought it well to direct them to prepare a list of works on which people might be employed in case my apprehension turn out well-founded.

SUBMITTED to Government with the recommendation that Mr. Wedderburn be authorized to open simple relief works whenever and wherever he may be satisfied of the necessity for them, and that a sum of Rs. 10,000 be placed at his disposal for that purpose.

Proceedings of the Madras Government, Revenue Department, 10th March 1874.

2. There can be no objection to the repair of village lanes being one mode of relief; but the deepening of wells, the clearance of channels, and the repair of tank-bunds, are all works of public utility, and capable of being performed by all classes.

3. Of course, Mr. Wedderburn will stimulate all Local Fund works within the area in which distress may appear.

4. At this season of the year, if distress is coming, it will be felt immediately, and Mr. Wedderburn should be provided with means and be prepared to act at once if any action is necessary.

5. Mr. Rice must endeavour to see as much of his division as he can personally, and the Board hope soon to have before them some at least of the information which, as has been pointed out by the Collector, ought to be furnished when scarcity is feared.

No. 113. ORDER THEREON, 10th March 1874, No. 330.

Miscellaneous.

His Excellency the Right Honourable the Governor in Council accordingly authorizes a sum of Rupees (10,000) ten thousand to be placed at the disposal of the Collector of Coimbatore for the purpose stated in paragraph 1 of the Proceedings above recorded.

2. Mr. Wedderburn will submit at an early date detailed information regarding the tracts in which scarcity and distress are anticipated.

3. The observations contained in his letter to Mr. Rice are appropriate.
