Proceedings of the Madras Government, Revenue Department, 6th July 1874.

No. 26. Read the following Proceedings of the Board of Revenue, dated 24th June 1874, Miscellaneous No. 4,242 :—

Read the following letter from R. W. BARLOW, Esq., Collector of the Chingleput District, to J. GROSE, Esq., Secretary to the Board of Revenue, dated Sydapet, 18th June 1874, No. 277.

In reply to paragraph 2 of the Proceedings of Government, Revenue Department, No. 687, of the 4th instant, I have the honor to report that prior to the receipt of the same I had, with reference to paragraph 2 of the Proceedings of the Board, dated 23rd ultimo, No. 1,244, published therein, called on Messrs. Cammiade, Martin & Co. either to pay up or lodge more securities; and on receipt of the said Government Order I sent a reminder to them, and enclose their original reply (to be returned) just received. They state their utter inability to give any further security, and throw themselves upon the mercy of Government, and request that interest charged for sums overdue may only be calculated at 6 per cent. instead of 12. The only remark I have to make is that they are our oldest, and were for many years our best, Salt customers, and have done much to develop the salt-trade here.

2. I would add that nothing whatever is due by Messrs. Cammiade, Martin & Co. now, either for interest or for salt, the price of which has already fallen due, as I have realized by the sale of their securities. I shall go on doing this from time to time as payments become due, but eventually when all salt delivered has so fallen due there will not be more (my Treasury Deputy ~~will not be more~~ to their honor being at premium, portion of their claim on account of cyclone damages alone be admitted, there will be no loss to Government, and a surplus have to be paid to the firm.

3. I await orders as to whether I am to take any further action against the firm; but the Board will observe that they state that any pressure put upon them will result in their having to wind up their affairs.

SUBMITTED for the orders of Government.

2. The Collector states that when the price of all the salt delivered to Messrs. Cammiade, Martin & Co. has fallen due, and the value of the securities deposited by the firm has been realized, it is estimated that the balance due to Government will amount to about Rs. 16,576,—a sum which will be covered by the admission of a small portion of their claim on account of cyclone damages.

3. Considering all the circumstances of the case, and the fact that Messrs. Cammiade, Martin & Co. have done much to develop the salt-trade, the Board would advocate forbearance, and recommend that the firm should not be pressed for payment.

No. 27.

SECRET

COMMUNICATION

I sent a reminder to them, and enclose their original reply just received. They state their utter inability to give any further security, and throw themselves upon the mercy of Government, and request that interest charged for sums overdue, may only be calculated at 6 per cent instead of 12. The only remark I have to make is that they are our oldest, and were for many years our best customers, - I have done much to develop the salt trade here.

2. I would add that nothing whatever is due by Messrs Cammische Martin & Co now, either for interest or for salt, the price of which has already fallen due, as I have realised by the sale of their securities. I shall go on doing this from time to time as payments become due, but eventually when all salt delivered has fallen due, there will be something something to their debit, but this sum, owing to their paper being at premium, will not be more - my Treasury Deputy calculates - than Rs 16,576, so that, if a small portion of their claim on account of Cyclone damages alone be admitted, there will be no loss to Government, and a surplus have to be paid to the firm.

3. I await orders as to whether I am to take any further action against the firm, but the Board will advise that they state that any pressure put upon them will result in their having to wind up their affairs.
