No. 106. Read the following Proceedings of the Board of Revenue, dated 30th June 1875, No. 1,805:—

Read the following letter from J. H. MASTER, Esq., Collector of Bellary, to H. E. STOKES, Esq., Acting Secretary to the Board of Revenue, dated 11th June 1875, No. 203.

WITH reference to Miscellaneous Proceedings of the Board of Revenue, No. 5,393, dated 11th August 1874, communicating G. O. of 10th July, No. 1,266, Judicial Department, I have the honor to request that the subject of building suitable quarters for the Sub-Magistrate at Ramandroog and for his clerks may be taken into consideration. The Police have just had huts built for them by their department.

2. I beg to enclose copy of a letter I have received on the subject from the Deputy Collector in charge of the Harpanhully Division.

3. It would not be worth the while of capitalists to expend any amount in building in foreign territory, nor could the Sub-Magistrate be expected to build for himself, as the station is not liked by natives, who soon fall ill from the influence of the climate.

4. I consider that a building that would cost about a thousand Rupees would be sufficient for the Sub-Magistrate, and one at a cost of 500 Rupees for each of two clerks.

ENCLOSURE No. 1.

From V. VENKATACHELLUM, Deputy Collector, to J. H. MASTER, Esq., Collector of Bellary, dated Hospett, 15th May 1875, No. 115.

I HAVE the honor to represent that the servants of the departments which were formerly under the Collector, and which have been transferred to other officers, have been allowed some special privileges on the recommendation of their departmental superior officers.

2. Police Constables are now provided with huts, and the Deputy Postmaster is provided with a house at Government expense, while former Police Peons and Post Office writers had not such indulgence during the time they were under Revenue Department.

3. Although I do not recommend such indulgence to all Revenue or Magisterial servants, I beg to submit, for your consideration, the difficulty which the Deputy Tahsildar and Sub-Magistrate at Ramandroog and his clerk and peons suffer for want of good houses to live, while the Post Office writer of that station lives in good house at the expense of Government.

4. The want of proper accommodation for living is one of the causes for these servants getting sick and wishing to go away from the station.

5. I therefore beg that you will be pleased to recommend that small houses may be constructed at the Government expense and given to them at a moderate rent.

6. As the salaries of the clerk and peons are hardly sufficient for their support, they are unable to build huts at enormous expense at that station. As no Deputy Tahsildar and Sub-Magistrate remained in that station for three years, it cannot be expected that a Sub-Magistrate will expend money for building a house in which he has no hope to live long.

Proceedings of the Madras Government, Revenue Department, 12th August 1875.

SUBMITTED for the favorable consideration of Government.

2. The Collector suggests that quarters for the Sub-Magistrate of Ramandroog and his two clerks should be erected by Government at a cost of Rupees
1,000 for the Sub-Magistrate's house and Rupees 500 for each of the clerks, Rupees
2,000 in all, and that they should pay a moderate rent, but even 5 per cent. as rent will fall rather heavily on the clerks. The climate is exceedingly damp for six months in the year, and without a good house is intolerable to natives of the plains.
