Papers for Editors' Table.

No. 42. Proceedings of Government, 10th September 1875, No. 1135.

The Governor in Council observes that the practice at present in the Departments under the Chief Secretary and in other Departments which furnish papers for the Editors' table, is to print, with some exceptions, every paper brought upon the Proceedings, on the supposition that it will be furnished to the Editors—thirteen copies being required for the purpose.

2. Of the number of papers thus printed it seldom happens that more than about a tenth is given. The result therefore is, that there is, every week, an excessive number of copies of papers struck off which are not required for any other purpose, but which fill the almirahs and record-room most inconveniently.

3. It occurs to His Excellency in Council that this excessive number of copies of papers printed may be obviated if each Secretary would mark in a corner of every paper which he would suggest being placed on the Editors' table the letters "E. T."

4. Copies will be struck off only of all papers thus marked for the Editors' table.
