Proceedings of the Madras Government, Revenue Department, 24th February 1875.

No. 281. Read the following Proceedings of the Board of Revenue, dated 27th January 1875, No. 179:—

Read the following letter from W. McQUHAE, Esq., Collector of Madura, to J. GROSE, Esq., Secretary to the Board of Revenue, dated 11th December 1874, No. 427:—

I HAVE the honor to acknowledge the receipt of the Proceedings of the Board of Revenue, Miscellaneous No. 7,706, dated 4th November 1874, referring to me for report, G. O., dated 20th October 1874, No. 1,351, Revenue Department, and to point out that the List of the Office buildings required for the Revenue Department in this district was submitted to the Board by the Acting Collector Mr. Bliss, with his letter, dated 2nd October 1873, No. 312, and the Board included them in the general list sent to Government, with the Board's Proceedings, dated 3rd March 1874, No. 470, but in the Acting Collector's letter No. 1,547, dated 11th September 1874, referred to in the District Engineer's letter, embodied in the above Government Order, certain alterations were suggested in the list before submitted, and I beg therefore, to submit a revised list* in which the buildings are entered in the order in which they should be constructed.

* Vide G. O., dated the 3rd September 1874, No. 33, Revenue Department.

2. The Board in their Proceedings, dated 8th August 1874, No. 2,162, having concurred with the Collector that the Head-Assistant Collector's Office should be built in the middle of his division, I requested the District Engineer to prepare an estimate for constructing the Office in question at Manamadura.

3. Manamadura was originally proposed as the Head-Assistant's Head-quarters by Mr. Bliss, and the only objection to it is that it is an ordinary village with a population of 4,935. Permagudi, about 15 miles further down the Ramnad road, is a larger village, with a population of 8,822. The population of Ramnad is 12,220, so that it has the advantage of being the largest town in the division, but is inconveniently situated.

4. The removal of the Head-Assistant's Head-quarters involves also the removal of the Assistant Superintendent of Police, and the building of bungalows for both these officers by Government, according to the principle lately accepted in G. O., dated 10th July 1874, No. 1,266. The change will therefore involve considerable expense, and I have placed the building last in order of importance instead of second in the List, as many of the Sub-Magistrates' Cutcheries are urgently required. There is also no urgent necessity for a new Sub-Magistrate's Office and Subsidiary Jail at Tirappattur. I have therefore omitted it from the List, and the Office at Sivagunga can be improved, so that a new building there is unnecessary.

Collector.

SUBMITTED to Government with reference to G. O., dated 20th October 1874, No. 1,351. The revised list of Buildings required seems to have been carefully made out.

2. As regards the transfer of the Head-Assistant Collector's Office to the middle of his division, the Board have not yet expressed an opinion. Their Proceedings of the 8th August 1874, No. 2,162, referred to the purchase of Latham's Bungalow.

3. They think that the Head-Assistant should not be located either at Manamadura or at Pennagudi.

4. Both places are simply villages, although large ones, and although the former is more central than any other place in the Division, it is quite devoid of the accommodation requisite at the Head-quarters of a Divisional Officer. The only places within the division which are suitable for Head-quarters are Sivagunga and Ramnad. Neither of them are central and there is therefore probably no sufficient reason for abandoning the existing station of Ramnad. If that be retained as the Head-Assistant's Head-quarters the Head-Assistant's Special Assistant and Assistant Superintendent of Police will all be located together.
