From

The Joint Secretary to the Board of Revenue

To

The Secretary to Government
Revenue Department

SIR,

With reference to G. O. dated 5th October 1874, No. 33, I am directed by the Board to state that notwithstanding every effort made they find it impossible to dispense with the services of the two ac-countants whose entertainment has been sanctioned up to the end of this month. Monthly price returns are now received from 271 places for 12 articles besides fort-nightly returns for 13 articles from the head quarters of each District.
There are thus 3798 entries in local measures to be converted, examined and

and posted for a month, in addition to examining, totalling &c as many entries relating to the past year given in the current returns for purposes of comparison. Besides this, there is the fair copying of more than 4500 entries. This and the correspondence work connected with it has been found from the experience of upwards of a year to occupy the entire time of 3 men and a portion of the time of a fourth, although general tables have been prepared to facilitate calculations. The Board are unable to spare more than one hand from their general establishment and even that entails great inconvenience. Formerly, before the new returns were introduced, there was hardly work

/Sig/ R. W. Lodwick
 Accountant General

The two additional Accountants, whose salaries of R. 30 and 25 constitute the charge of R. 55 reported in this Statement, have been employed in the Revenue Board Office as temporary hands from 1st April 1874 in the preparation of the Price Returns required by the Government of India - see explanation in Financial letter 2nd November 1874 under head "Administration". The experience of one year has shown the necessity for continuing the Accountants permanently in connection with the work stated above.
