No. 1331

Submitted to Government without the usual report, as under the new form of audit registers the Office is not able to say what is the cost in cases of this nature, as so much as these Boards do not exhibit Establishment in detail.

It is suggested that Madras of Refranchments may be introduced, when making similar legislation, to state the policy of the authorities and that of their Councils, and of the other functions of the Establishment who are included in the proposed arrangement, when this Office will be in a position to report upon the data thus given.

For David George
Accountant General's Office
1st June 1876.

For Rev.

Office Audit, June 1876.
