So far, the proposed dimensions of citizenship in the new South Africa are under debate. The extent to which it is a new type of citizenship, or rather a reversion to the old South African citizenship, will depend on the changes in the level of the state of society.

Proceedings of the Madras Government, Public Works Department, 11th October 1876. No. 2,724.

3. The following is a summary of the work proposed to be carried out in each case:—

Keelambi North Tank—Raising and repairing the bund, planting kuskus, turfing, repairing three irrigation sluices, and forming an escape planted with grass.

Keelambi Melary Tank—Raising and repairing the bund, planting kuskus, turfing, and constructing a rough stone stone escape.

Arabi Pottery Tank—Repairing and raising a portion of the bund, planting kuskus, turfing, repudding pavement, and removing the dam stones of the culingulali.

The wings of the rough stone escape provided for the Keelambi Melary Tank should not be repaired in the manner shown in the plan, but should be traced as shown in plan thereon. The length of escape need not exceed 150 feet.

The surplus from the tank crosses the Annakesari and Lalakal channels. It would have been as well to have given some details of the arrangements at the points referred to for receiving and disposing of this excess drainage. The position of the
