On the whole of the papers together, the Judicial Examiner remarks: "Mr. Bird's answering was of a very high character. I have never had better papers."

3. For the Lower Standard the Candidates were—

Mr. W. J. Tate.
„ G. W. Fawcett.

„ A. H. T. Martindale.

4. Mr. Tate came up for the whole of the Divisions, but passed only in Divisions B and C. The Telugu Examiner remarks that his translation and dictation were good.

5. Mr. Fawcett appeared for Divisions A and D, having passed in B and C at the previous examination. He is considered to have passed. The Telugu Examiner remarks that his translation was very good and his dictation good.

6. Mr. Martindale, one of the newly-arrived Civilians, took up but the Law of Evidence, the only subject under Division C. He is considered to have passed, the Judicial Examiner remarking Mr. Martindale's paper is deserving of special mention, and is highly creditable to him.

7. Mr. Moore appeared for Divisions A and D, having passed in the other Divisions at the previous examination. He is considered to have passed in Division D, but the Committee are unable to report the result of his examination in Division A, as his Revenue case has not yet been reported on by the Divisional Committee. The paper arrived, but was returned by the President for valuation. A further report will be submitted by the Committee when the paper is received, the President considering that further delay ought not to take place.
