From

The Secretary to Government,

Revenue Department,

Fort Saint George

the two sharers for their respective shares while in the other two villages a joint Title Deed was issued in the names of both the individuals - The Collector is wrong in stating that the Incans in two villages were registered in the sole name of Subbammal.

2. It is not however quite clear why separate Title Deeds were granted in two villages while a joint Title Deed was granted in the other two, but from the remark made in one of the registers it appears that separate Title Deeds were granted where both the parties appeared and claimed them while a joint Deed was granted where only one of them appeared and claimed joint registration probably with a view of establishing some right of survivorship. The Inam Commission as a rule never granted
Separate

Separate Title Deeds to sharers unless the parties claimed them and the lands had been actually divided.

I have the honor to be,
Sir,
