Proceedings of the Madras Government, Revenue Department, 4th April 1877.

Famine Relief.

No. 146. Read the following letter from Surgeon-Major W. R. CORNISH, F.R.C.S., Sanitary Commissioner for Madras, to J. H. GARSTIN, Esq., Additional Secretary to Government, Revenue Department, dated Madras, 4th April 1877, No. 241:—

With reference to your demi-official note of the 1st instant, I have the honor to state that the gentlemen as per margin met in consultation yesterday morning, and after inspecting the locality we agreed that the best site for a camp would be in the Chepauk grounds, a little to the north of the Lunkerhana. This situation is well open to the sea, has clean soil, water at hand, and can be kept under strict supervision, so as to prevent the camp being a nuisance. There is a piece of ground near Kistnampet to which the camp can be moved as soon as the work across the Chepauk grounds has been completed.
