Proceedings of the Madras Government, Revenue Department,
17th January 1877

No 424 Read the following Proceedings of the Board of Revenue, dated 19th December 1876 —

At the present crisis the Price Returns are of very great importance Even in ordinary times there is, the Board believe, a tendency in the quoted prices to represent rather wholesale prices, or those prevailing in large transactions, than the price at which sales are made to the mass of petty purchasers All Collectors will enjoin upon their subordinates who make Returns of Prices to be especially careful to ascertain for their reports the real retail prices at which food grains can be bought in the bazaars
