REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

18th June 1877, No. 2,031-A.

Famine Relief.

Read the following paper:—

No. 372-B. Proceedings of the Board of Revenue, dated 7th June 1877.

Read the following letter from H. SEWELL, Esq., Acting Collector of Tichinopoly, to H. E. STOKES, Esq., Secretary to the Board of Revenue, dated 21st May 1877, No. 172.

In continuation of my letter, No. 165, dated 17th instant, I have the honor to point out that the Civil Surgeon's statement, that at the relief-house in the fort one measure of rice is distributed between nine or ten persons is not quite accurate.

2. We issue tickets for these houses, and according to the number of tickets issued, rice is cooked at the rate of one measure of raw rice to five or six persons.
But it often happens that at the end of the distribution a number of out-siders without tickets, mostly new-comers, are waiting to pick up what they can get, and if there is any rice over after the ticket-holders have been fed, it is distributed to those of the out-siders who appear to be most in want. Then, if the total number is taken, the average comes to about nine or ten persons to one measure of raw rice.
This, however, it is impossible to avoid, as there would otherwise be great waste.
If these out-siders apply afterwards for tickets, and are found to be deserving objects of charity, they receive their proper allowance in future.

The system described may have been admissible in the relief-houses maintained by private subscription, and which was not intended to provide for the full support of those relieved. But in the relief-camp, the establishment of which has been approved, the rations must be regulated by G.O., No. 1,648, dated 5th May 1877.

Proceedings of the Board of Revenue

Dated 7th June 1877
Recd^d 1st

It is interesting that the system described as obtaining in the relief house
at the start in Christchurch
may have been a considerable
in relief houses maintained
by private subscription.
But that notion in the relief can't be referred to,
much be regulated by G.O.
No 1648 of 5th May 1877.
